总 序

五年前，为配合各高校全面贯彻执行《大学英语教学指南》中提高大学生英语能力、培养国际化人才的要求，我们参照《国家中长期教育改革与发展规划纲要(2010-2020年)》以及《教育部关于全面提高高等教育质量的若干意见》的精神，在上海外语教育出版社的帮助下，组织全国十多所高校设计、编写了这套“新目标大学英语系列教材”。

本系列教材充分反映了当今外语教学理论，并基于对中国大学英语现状与发展趋势的充分调研，受到了广大师生的喜爱。为了更好体现《大学英语教学指南》(2020版)和《中国英语能力等级量表》的要求，我们对教材进行了修订，使其更符合新的大学英语教学需求。

一、教材特色

“新目标大学英语系列教材”之“新目标”包含三层含义：1. 全球化和高等教育国际化发展趋势以及中国新的国家发展战略对中国大学生英语能力提出的新目标和新要求；2.《大学英语教学指南》(2020版)对大学英语提出的新的多元化课程目标；3. 各个大学根据学校办学定位、特色、人才培养规格对学生英语能力设定的新目标和新要求。

教材设计体现以下特色：

1. 以学生为本

各教程注重语言知识的讲解与传授，以及语言技能、学习技能和思维能力的培养，通过任务、活动及练习的设置引导学生在“做”中“学”，在真实的语言交际环境中提高学习技能和语言技能。教材主题的选择对接学生的年龄特点和时代特点，符合学生认知和情感能力发展的需求，可帮助学生拓宽国际视野及提升综合素养。练习类型包括主题拓展、语言知识、思维训练、自主学习能力培养等方面。

2. 多维度多层次的立体体系

教材继承传统的“《综合教程》+其他”教材体系，根据新时期大学英语教学的特点以及英语学习的最佳路径，构建全新的“《综合教程》+《视听说教程》+《阅读教程》+‘主题英语教程’”教材体系，不仅全面培养学生的英语听、说、读、写能力，而且注重提高大学生科学人文素养和跨文化交际能力，并培养他们以英语为媒介从事专业学习和国际学术交流的能力。

二、教材结构

本系列教材的结构体系按照《大学英语教学指南》(2020版)提出的“通用英语”

“专门用途英语”和“跨文化交际”三大板块进行设计、编写。

通用英语

通用英语教材旨在全面提高学生的英语语言技能，为后续课程（特别是专门用途英语课程或全英语专业课程）的学习打下基础。

《综合教程》：1—4册(刘正光主编)

《综合教程》通过帮助学生阅读符合其认知和情感特点的优秀范文，掌握基本阅读技能和语言基础知识，逐步形成系统的组织和表达思想的能力，同时利用阅读材料所提供的英语语言素材和相关主题知识，培养学生综合使用语言的能力。

《视听说教程》：1—4册(徐锦芬主编)

《视听说教程》涵盖丰富的视听练习和口头语言交际活动，话题和难度从通用英语过渡到学术英语，注重让学生通过自主学习、合作学习和项目式学习提高听说能力，培养批判性思维，获得听懂专业课程、参与学术交流的能力。

《阅读教程》：1—4册(束定芳主编)

《阅读教程》的主题完全对应《综合教程》的主题，教材内容不仅增加了相同主题选文的体裁和数量，更重要的是帮助学生进一步巩固和拓展相关主题知识和语言技能，熟练掌握阅读技巧，提升阅读速度。

专门用途英语

《科技英语教程》(王腊宝主编)；《人文社科英语教程》(文旭主编)

这两本教材是专门为理工科和人文社科专业方向学生进入全英语专业课学习或阅读专业文献而编写的过渡性教材，也可作为不同专业学生的拓展阅读教程。

跨文化交际

《中国文化英语教程》(束定芳主编)；《西方文化英语教程》(殷企平主编)

这两本教材的设计充分考虑到中国学生对中国传统文化和西方文化的兴趣，能满足学生深入了解中国传统文化和西方文化的需求。

三、教材修订情况

近五年来，高等教育乃至整个教育领域都发生了较大的变化。

2018年9月，教育部会同国家有关部委集中出台了“六卓越一拔尖”2.0计划。几乎所有的文件都针对“国际交流和国际化人才培养”提出了具体的要求。2020年，《大学英

语教学指南》(2020版)正式颁布并出版。新《指南》在课程思政、教学要求、教学内容、教学方法与手段、教师发展等方面都做了相关的修订和补充。

为了使大学英语教学更好地服务高等学校“双一流”建设和国际化人才培养，我们组织了“新目标大学英语系列教材”的修订工作。

本次修订工作主要集中在《综合教程》和《视听说教程》，其他教程在吸收读者反馈的基础上，也将陆续修订。

希望此次修订能更好地帮助学生提升核心素养，培养跨文化意识和跨文化交际能力，在提升英语能力的同时，学习中外文化知识和相关专业知识。

四、教材使用建议

本系列教材可充分满足《大学英语教学指南》(2020版)提出的通用英语课程中基础级和提高级的教学要求，各高校可根据本校学生的实际情况和教学目标选择使用。

本系列教材中的《综合教程》《视听说教程》《阅读教程》可作为主干教材用于基础阶段和提高阶段的教学；《科技英语教程》《人文社科英语教程》《中国文化英语教程》和《西方文化英语教程》可作为提高阶段教材，或作为学生自主学习的拓展资源。

新生英语基础相对较好的高校可加快各基础阶段的教学进度，并补充与主题相关、有助于英语学习的内容；对于新生英语基础相对比较薄弱的高校，建议使用基础阶段教材帮助学生打好语言基本功，再视学生语言能力情况开设拓展课程。

本系列教材在策划和编写过程中得到原上海外语教育出版社社长兼总编辑庄智象教授的全方位支持和专业指导，此外还得到其他多方面的支持，特别是教育部大学外语教学指导委员会、外语界许多知名专家学者、高校一线教师和上海外语教育出版社高等教育事业部的编辑等，在此一并表示衷心的感谢！

由于编者水平所限，编写时间仓促，教材中难免有疏漏与不足，欢迎专家、广大教师和学生批评指正。

束定芳

Preface

The New Target College English series is the most comprehensive English language textbook series that I have seen. The whole series is based on the new college English curriculum guidelines set by the Ministry of Education, which emphasizes both training in basic skills and the development of cross-cultural awareness and some ESP skills. The contents of the textbooks are ideal for achieving these goals.

There is a primary focus on reading and writing in the Integrated Course but the reading texts also serve as a basis for creative thinking and developing speaking skills. The topics of each unit have been very carefully chosen to reflect the global role that English now plays. I was especially pleased to see that the reading passages were extensive rather than the fashionable short texts that figure in many contemporary textbooks. There is — very rightly — a major emphasis on developing students' vocabulary, including both words and phrases.

The New Target College English series also focuses on academic listening and speaking with the specially designed Video Course. Readings in Western Culture and Readings in Chinese Culture provide extensive reading materials in both Chinese and Western cultures while Readings in Science and Technology and Readings in the Humanities and Social Sciences are designed as ESP materials to enhance students' academic skills in English. This series will appeal to a wide range of teachers with its blend of traditional type and communicative activities.

A key feature of the series is that it aims to cater to the different needs of Chinese students at different levels and locations. There is a rich array of learning activities in each course that will allow teachers the opportunities to select those activities that they consider best suited to their own students. Teachers can also select to use one, two or all of the courses in the complete series based on their students' English proficiency and the aims and objectives of the English curriculum in their own college. My hope, however, is that they will take advantage of the whole series.

The textbook series also takes account of the fact that many Chinese college students will need to use English to further their own academic studies. Thus there are activities specifically directed at the English language skills and strategies that students will need to study through the medium of English.

My lifelong work in second language acquisition points to one key principle that needs to inform the design of language courses — namely, the importance of providing as much input in the second language as possible. Language learning is a slow and gradual process that can only be successful if learners are exposed to massive amounts of input. Most language courses consist only of the main textbooks, which by themselves can never ensure the quantity of input needed to achieve high levels of proficiency. The New Target College English series is a very welcome exception.

I am very happy to endorse the New Target College English series.

编者的话

“新目标大学英语系列教材”《视听说教程》根据《大学英语教学指南》(2020版)、《中国英语能力等级量表》以及教育部印发的《高等学校课程思政建设指导纲要》进行修订，旨在培养和提高学生的通用英语交际技能和学术英语听说能力，同时将价值塑造、知识传授和能力培养三者融为一体，使学生在今后学习、工作和社会交往中不仅能用英语进行有效交流，而且能坚定理想信念，树立正确的世界观、人生观和价值观。

一、编写理念及特色

教程在内容上主题广泛、视角多元、选材典型，通过挖掘丰富的视听资源帮助学生丰富学识，增长见识，塑造品格。教程在编写上融合了“多元智力理论”、“互动教学法”、“任务型教学法”等多种理念，并注重让学生通过自主学习、合作学习和项目式学习提高听说能力，培养批判性思维，深刻理解素材内涵。

本教程体现以下特色：

1. 主题广泛有趣，融入思政内容

围绕“了解自我”、“了解环境”、“了解人际关系”、“了解科学与文化”四大主题编写，每册各有侧重，单元话题涵盖政治认同、家国情怀、文化修养、法治意识、道德修养等内容。学习内容的难度逐步进阶，从通用英语过渡到学术英语，符合学生学习需求及认知规律。各单元的主题生动有趣，契合大学生的学习心理，能激发他们的探究欲望。此外，教程的每个单元均包含与中国相关的音视频素材，以增强学生的文化自信，鼓励他们讲好中国故事。

2. 传统与创新相结合的视听练习

除传统视听练习外，教程还专门设计了练习以帮助学生习得听力素材中一些重要语言形式，包含noticing activities和restructuring activities。前者引导学生关注听力素材中的语言本身，后者是前者的进一步拓展和延伸，训练学生灵活运用所学语言的能力。此外，本教程还融入了大学英语四、六级改革后的新听力题型，助力学生进一步提升对话、短文、新闻和学术讲座的听力能力，结合大学英语课程特色，培养国际化人才。

3. 真实语境的任务型口语练习

口语技能的训练层层递进，从第一册到第四册分别训练conversational skill, discussion skill, presentation skill和academic presentation skill。口语练习的设计注重语用和情境，通过围绕主题的各类任务来引导和帮助学生在真实语境中运用英语进行交流，听与说有机结合，相互呼应，并结合学生实际特点和需求，在口语练习中提供相应的表达和句式为学生提供脚手架。

4. 形式多样的项目学习

项目学习是本教程的另一大特色，其基本理念是创造一个理想的环境，使学生在真实的语境中把本单元所学知识和技能应用于实际任务，这样不仅使学生内化语言知识，巩固学习技能，还将有效培养他们探索、思考、解决问题的能力以及与人协作的能力。在项目任务的设计中注重引导学生发现自我、理解文化、探究世界，形成正确的价值体系。

二、教程结构和单元结构

本教程共四册，每册分八个单元，每单元围绕一个主题提供视听材料，视听材料包括校园环境、日常生活、工作场景等，形式丰富多彩，有新闻、独白、电影片段、演讲片段、访谈节目、纪录片等。并以此为基础设计听说活动。

单元结构如下：

1. Famous Quotation

与主题相关的名人名言，以激发学生对本单元主题的兴趣和思考。

2. Lead-in

轻松的视听材料或图片资料，用以引入本单元话题。

3. Listening as Comprehension

结合两则视听素材开展视听练习，侧重对素材的理解和听力技巧、笔记技巧等的训练。素材内容体现课程的知识性和人文性。

4. Listening as Acquisition

在理解材料的基础上帮助学生注意和掌握材料中的语音特点、语言形式和语法结构。

5. Speaking for Communication

结合单元主题，创造真实语境开展口语活动，通过输出培养学生的英语应用能力。

6. Further Exploration

包含一则视频素材和三则音频素材。视频素材的选取注重蕴含育人功能，通过对视频内容的逻辑思维分析，有针对性地培养学生的批判性思维能力，在此基础上引导学生基于视频内容进行世界观、人生观和价值观方面的深入思考，发挥课程育人的作用。三则音频素材与大学英语四、六级听力题型相对应，篇幅与难度循序渐进，听力内容紧密围绕单元主题，有针对性地提升学生的各项听力技能。

7. Putting into Practice: Project

让学生以小组形式独立完成一个项目活动，引导学生复习巩固所学语言知识、语言技能和语言策略，并以过程为导向提供大量学习机会帮助学生运用所学知识，从而发展综合能力。项目内容引导学生从了解自我、适应大学环境到理解文化、适应社会、探究世界，寓价值观引导于知识传授和能力培养之中。

8. Goal Checking

学生个人反思本单元所学，与教师（或同伴）交流，教师（或同伴）提供相关指导和帮助。

三、教程使用建议

各高校可根据各自的课堂学时数、具体教学目标以及学生的实际情况有选择地使用视听部分的内容。

对于视听说学时数比较少的学校，课堂上可重点进行Listening as Comprehension和Listening as Acquisition的技能操练，引导学生理解各种技能并运用技能理解视听素材，然后进一步习得与主题相关的语言形式。Speaking for Communication板块的口语活动可以安排学生在课外合作完成。Further Exploration板块的视频内容建议在课堂上完成，其余则由学生课外完成。

对于视听说课学时数比较充裕的学校，除Project之外，所有板块内容都可以在课堂上完成。建议学生在一周内完成单元Project，并在课堂上进行汇报和评价，通过这些活动让学生学会自主学习和协作学习。

本教程在编写过程中，经过多次研讨、多方听取意见，反复修改完善。原上海外语教育出版社社长兼总编辑庄智象教授、本系列教材总主编上海外国语大学束定芳教授从宏观策划到具体细节都提出了许多宝贵的意见。编写团队成员都为大学英语一线教师。另外，本教程在编写过程中得到了上海外语教育出版社领导和华中科技大学外语学院领导的大力支持，谨在此一并感谢。

由于编者水平有限，教材中难免还存在不少问题与不足，欢迎业内同仁批评指正。

The Future Me

For me the journey was not predictable at all. You have to find your own North Star and stay with your North Star and let those things go on about you and sort of find your journey.

— Tim Cook (1960–, CEO of Apple Inc.)

Lead-in

I. Read the following quotes. Discuss in pairs and share with each other your understanding of these quotes.

1 You'll soon understand that the future belongs to those who believe in the beauty and power of their dreams. — Obert Skye

2 When you make a choice, you change the future. — Deepak Chopra

3 I don't know what the future may hold, but I know who holds the future. — Ralph Abernathy

4 The future is not created. The future is co-created. If we want a richer future, we engage everyone to create it. — Nilofer Merchant

F. I want to be a screenwriter because I really enjoy movies.

III. Work in pairs and discuss the questions.

1 What kind of job or career do you think you'll have in the future?

2 What do you think you should do to be the person you want to be?

Listening as Comprehension

Listening Skill: Anticipating What You Will Hear

In Unit 1, Book 1, we've learned how to anticipate what we may hear with the help of our prior knowledge about the topic. In this unit, let's reinforce this listening skill.

Apart from the background knowledge you have about the topic being discussed, or relevant experiences you have gained in life, sometimes you can also make predictions based on what you have learned about the speaker, such as his or her profession, status, expertise, and interests. Then as you listen you can check your predictions. It helps you stay focused and understand what you hear.

I. You will hear a talk delivered by an adviser from the Career Planning and Development Centre of a university. Discuss with your partner, anticipate what he might talk about and write down some key words. Then listen to the talk and check your anticipations.

As an advisor from the Career Planning and Development Centre of a university, the speaker might have expertise in _____. His target audience might be _____. He might talk about _____.

II. Listen to the talk again and complete the career planning cycle below.

Career Planning Cycle

Stage 1: Self Understanding

- Know yourself through an 1 _____ psychometric test.
- Find out specifically whether the "significant others" agree or disagree with your own 2 _____.

Stage 2: Understanding of the Job Market

- 3 _____ what professions or jobs best match your abilities, preferences and personality characteristics.
- Explore the job nature and requirements of the career.
- Get help from 4 _____ or career advisers.
- Turn to 5 _____ for information.

Stage 3: Goal Setting

- Determine what you wish to achieve in short-, medium- and long-term periods.
- Identify the skill sets that help 6 _____.
- Plan carefully what you need to 7 _____ to fill the gaps.
- Mark all these clearly in a table and 8 _____ regularly.

Stage 4: Career Preparation

Make 9 _____ to acquire the necessary skills or experience, so as to be fully prepared once opportunities 10 _____.

III. Listen to the talk again and decide whether the following statements are true (T) or false (F).

1 _____ It's advisable for college students to start career planning as early as possible.

2 _____ Your own judgment about your abilities and characteristics won't be wrong because you know yourself the best.

3 _____ For information about the job market, you may turn to alumni, career advisers or the Internet for help.

4 _____ In career planning, it's important to set up long-term rather than short- or medium-term goals.

5 _____ Undertaking an internship can help you discover what the job is like first-hand.

Listening as Acquisition

Pronunciation Skill: Pronunciation of "-ed/d" Endings

In Unit 8, Book 1, we've learned different ways of pronouncing the "-ed/d" ending. In this unit, let's reinforce this skill. There are three basic rules: if the last sound of the base word is unvoiced or voiceless, the "-ed/d" ending will be pronounced /t/; if the last sound of the base word is voiced, the "-ed/d" ending will be pronounced /d/; if the last sound of the base word is /d/ or /t/, the "-ed" will be pronounced /ɪd/.

e.g. kissed /kɪst/ played /pleɪd/ mended /'mendɪd/

I. Pay attention to the underlined words in the following sentences, and repeat them after the speaker.

1 Macroeconomic trends and technology advances including smart devices and AI are altering industries, businesses, professions, and jobs at an unprecedented scale and rate.

2 Based on global research and insights, we've identified the future skills that matter…

3 Have you started your career planning yet? No matter which year you are studying in, you'd better start getting yourself prepared for your future career as early as you can.

4 A Career Planning Cycle can be divided into four stages.

II. Listen to the sentences from the video and the talk above. Then fill in the blanks with the words or phrases you hear.

1 And the disruption for professionals is real. Five million jobs may _____ exist.

2 Successful future professionals will be those who _____ learn and adapt both their skills and themselves.

3 Plan carefully what you need to _____ to fill the gaps.

4 Make conscientious efforts to _____ the necessary skills or experience, so as to be fully prepared once opportunities arise.

5 To prepare yourself well for future jobs, remember to leave yourself enough time to find out what your competence gap is. Then get equipped, and be ready to _____!

III. Fill in the blanks with the words or phrases above. Change the form if necessary.

1 The company is looking for someone that _____ in foreign languages.

2 The programme is designed to _____ students for a career in engineering.

3 Smart devices are entering the home and _____ adapting to customers' needs.

4 Soon after his retirement, the organization _____ function smoothly and productively.

5 Elsie spent years _____ her skills as a surgeon.

IV. Listen to the sentences from the video and the talk above. Identify phrases to match the Chinese translation below.

1 以前所未有的规模和速度 _____

2 雇佣关系 _____

3 弥补差距 _____

4 参加实习 _____

5 建立人际网 _____

Speaking for Communication

Discussion Skill: Giving Your Opinion and Asking for the Opinion of Others

If you enjoy expressing your ideas, giving your opinion is something you will do regularly. Asking for opinions also constitutes an important part of our daily communication. You can get different perspectives or useful suggestions from others if you do it properly. Here are the most common ways to express and ask for opinions.

Offering Your Opinion

In my opinion / In my view...

Generally speaking, I think...

Personally, I haven't the faintest idea about / whether...

To my mind...

I'd just like to say...

As far as I'm concerned...

I'm quite convinced that...

To be quite honest / frank...

Asking for the Opinion of Others

How do you feel about...?

What do you think of...?

What do you reckon?

What's your opinion of...?

What are your views on...?

What would you say to... / if we...?

Where do you stand on...?

Examples:

1 To be honest, smart technologies have already made an impact on many professions, so we need to acquire relevant technical skills if we want to succeed in the workplace.

2 As far as I'm concerned, we must constantly adapt and innovate to ensure success for the world is changing so fast.

3 What are your views on starting a small business after graduation?

4 What do you think of the current unemployment rate?

I. Listen to the discussion. Then practice the discussion in groups.

(A, B, and C are discussing planning for their future.)

A: Hey, you look worried, what's up?

B: I had a talk with my parents yesterday. They suggested that I start my career planning as early as possible. Personally, I haven't the faintest idea about the preparation I should make for my future.

C: Take it easy. In my opinion, you can start by getting to know yourself better. I mean, your personality traits, abilities, and interests.

A: I agree. Then explore the requirements of the job you would like to do, and you'll know how to prepare yourself for the job.

B: To be honest, academic research interests me more. What would you say if I decide to go to graduate school?

A: I would say that's a good idea. I believe you'll feel much happier pursuing your passion than taking a job you don't like at all.

B: What are your choices of career?

C: I'd like to start my own business after graduation. What do you think of my choice?

A: Sounds good! The development of technologies has increased efficiency and created platforms for startup firms. I want to be a high school teacher. There is so much fun in the teaching profession.

B: Good teachers can also have an impact on students' whole life, so in my view, it's a good choice.

C: Wow, it seems that we all have set a clear goal.

A: But that's just the first step. We still need detailed planning.

B: Exactly. Maybe we need to determine what we wish to achieve in short-, medium- and long-term periods.

C: How do you feel about consulting someone professional at our school Career Planning and Development Centre?

B: Good idea!

A: Let's go!

II. Work in groups and practice giving your opinion and asking for others' opinion on the topic "vital skills needed for future work".

The 5 Vital Skills You Will Need for Future Work

1. Emotional intelligence

A person's ability to be aware of, control and express their own emotions as well as being cognizant of the emotions of others.

2. Critical thinking

A person with critical thinking skills can suggest innovative solutions and ideas, solve complex problems using reasoning and logic and evaluate arguments.

3. Interpersonal communication skills

The ability to exchange information and meaning between people will be a vital skill during the fourth industrial revolution.

4. Diversity and cultural intelligence

As our world and workplaces become more diverse and open, it is vital that individuals have the skills to understand, respect and work with others despite differences in race, culture, language, age, gender, sexual orientation or religious beliefs, etc.

5. Technology skills

The fourth industrial revolution is fuelled by technological innovations such as artificial intelligence, big data, virtual reality, and more. This means that everyone will need a certain level of comfort around technology.

The list above presents the skills that Bernard Marr, a strategic business & technology advisor, considers to be essential for success in the future workplace. Discuss in groups, express your opinion and ask for the opinion of your group members based on the list above and the questions below.

1 Which of the skills above do you consider to be the most important one? How can college students acquire that skill?

2 Apart from these skills, are there any other important skills you would like to add to the list? If yes, what are they?

Following our dreams is usually easier said than done. We sometimes get lost when faced with challenges and obstacles. What should we do to become the ideal future self? In this video, Steve Jobs tells a personal story about what he did to pursue his passion in the midst of hardship.

I. ▶ Watch the video and answer the questions.

1 Why did Steve Jobs say that he was lucky?

2 Why was he fired by the company he started?

3 How did he feel about being fired by Apple?

4 Why did he decide to start over?

II. In this speech, Steve Jobs explained that what kept him going and helped him start over after getting fired by Apple was his love for his career. Read the following criteria used for assessing whether an argument is strong or valid. Then watch the video again, identify how Steve Jobs linked his ideas, and complete the outline.

Critical Thinking Skill: Assessing the Validity and Strength of an Argument

In Unit 1, Book 1, we've learned how to assess the validity and strength of an argument. There are three useful criteria: 1) Main points of the argument are clear; 2) Supporting details are provided; 3) Supporting information is relevant, current and reliable.

In this unit, let's reinforce this skill and get to know one more criterion that can help us decide whether an argument is strong or valid: Ideas are logically linked. Ideas should be well-organized if the speaker wants to present the major argument coherently and effectively. To logically connect ideas, the speaker should first find a common theme and then order the ideas in the best way possible.

Theme

- My second story is about 1 _____.

Early in life

- I found what I loved to do early in life.
- We worked hard and in ten years, Apple had 2 _____ just the two of us in a garage 3 _____ a $2 billion company with over 4,000 employees.

Later in life

- And I'd just turned thirty, and then I got fired.
- But something slowly began to 4 _____ me. I still loved what I did. The turn of events at Apple had not changed that one bit. I'd been rejected but I was still in love. And so I decided to start over.
- The 5 _____ of being successful was replaced by the lightness of being a 6 _____ again. It freed me to enter one of the most creative periods in my life.

During the next five years

- I started a company named NeXT, another company named Pixar and 7 _____ an amazing woman who would become my wife.

Remarkable turn of events

- Apple bought NeXT and I returned to Apple. And the technology we developed at NeXT is 8 _____ of Apple's current renaissance, and Lorene and I have a wonderful family together.

III. Work in groups and discuss the questions.

1 What does Steve Jobs mean by "awful-tasting medicine"?

2 Have you experienced anything that can be referred to as "awful-tasting medicine"? What have you learned from Steve Jobs' experience in handling "awful-tasting medicine"?

News Report

I. Listen to the news report and choose the best answer.

1 A. Her internship lasted for three months.
B. Knowledge obtained in college is of little help to her internship.
C. The internship experience is invaluable to her.
D. The field of marketing is familiar to her.

2 A. Because she had to learn everything from scratch.
B. Because she had to do all kinds of work.
C. Because she had made no preparation for her internship.
D. Because she got little help from colleagues from different departments.

3 A. Both are about international journalism.
B. Both are about getting the information to the right audience.
C. Both involve research and development.
D. Both require rich experience in marketing.

II. Listen to the news report again and identify phrases to match the Chinese translation below.

1 跨国食品大企业 _____

I. Listen to the passage and choose the best answer.

1 A. Bouncing back after a bad experience.
B. Organizing projects.
C. Monitoring a patient's heart rate.
D. Meeting deadlines.

2 A. Because they are very industry-specific.
B. Because they cannot be gained in college.
C. Because they are about everyday real world survival.
D. Because they help you prepare for the world of work.

3 A. Academic skills.
B. Life skills.
C. Employability skills.
D. Technical skills.

II. Listen to the passage again and complete the table below.

Skills Needed to Achieve Your Dreams

- Academic skills
  Challenging yourself to learn how to apply the knowledge you are taught Applying theories and concepts to 1 _____
- Life skills
  Bouncing back after a bad experience
  Managing money and creating 2 _____
  Remaining healthy through good nutrition
- Employability skills
  3 _____
  Working in teams
  Organizing projects
- 4 _____ skills

Putting into Practice: Project

What will our world be like in 20 years from now? What does the future hold for us? If future college students can receive a letter from you, what would you share with them in that letter? Work in groups and write a letter to future college students.

You may take the following steps:

1 Discuss in groups and make a prediction about the world in the future. You may talk about the following aspects:

- Environment
- Technology
- Education
- Work
- Relationship

2 List all the important things you want to share with future college students. You may consider the following questions:

- What are your concerns about our world in the future?
- What challenges might future college students encounter?
- What responsibility should future college students shoulder?
- What do you think matters most in life?
- What would you say to inspire future college students to make the best of who they are?

3 Work together to write a letter to future college students. The body of the letter should state the reason for writing the letter, describe your prediction about the world in the future, and elaborate on the important things you want to share with future college students. Remember to include greeting, closing, and signature in your letter.

4 Present your letter to the whole class.

Listening Skill: Focusing on Content/Stressed Words

In Unit 2, Book 1, we've learned to focus on content/stressed words when listening. In this unit, let's reinforce this skill. Please review the following concepts. Content/stressed words are usually verbs, nouns, adjectives, adverbs, question words, prepositional adverbs and negatives. They possess the highest information content for a discourse or utterance.

For example:

I worry when I don't understand every word I've listened to.

I worry when I don't understand every word I've listened to.

2 _____ You should take on everything yourself no matter how stressed you are.
3 _____ You can take up a hobby to distract yourself from your anxieties.
4 _____ Things like reading, arts, crafts, gardening may add extra stress.
5 _____ Stress can be avoided completely as long as you know the right way to deal with it.

Pronunciation Skill: Common Reductions

In Unit 1, Book 1, we've learned three kinds of common reductions in natural spoken English. Common reductions refer to sounds that become smaller or disappear when spoken at a normal speed. In this unit, let's reinforce this skill and learn more common reductions.

1. Reductions of "or"

Written form:	Sounds like:
sooner or later	sooner'er later
treat or trick	treat'er trick
true or false	true er false
now or never	now er never more or less	more er less believe it or not	believ'it'er not

2. Reductions of "of"

Written form:	Sounds like:
a lot of	a lot'ef
out of question	out'ef question
a point of view	a point'ef view
be fond of	be fond'ef
think of	think'ef
a shelf of books	a shelf'ef books

3. Reductions of "and"

Written form:	Sounds like:
day and night	day n night
here and there	here n there
now and then	now n then
safe and sound	safe n sound
read and write	read'n write
old and young	old'n young

I. Pay attention to the common reductions in the following sentences, and repeat them after the speaker.

1 Stress is the physiological response you have to any external or internal stressor and a stressor is anything that requires you to make an adjustment either emotionally, physically, or mentally.
2 How do feelings or emotions show signs of stress?
3 We can be sad; we can be sleepy and trancy and not very present in our moments.
4 When they begin to show signs of distress and then we can use that to change our behaviour or perception, etc.
5 We know that we expect stress when there is a loss of a loved one, but we also experience a lot of stress with good events like the birth of a baby or planning and having a wedding.

II. Listen to the sentences from the video and the passage above. Then fill in the blanks with the words or phrases you hear.

1 When we handle our stresses poorly, we live under stress and it's quite _____.
2 Stress can _____ in our feelings and emotions also.
3 Examine how you react to stress and try to understand what _____ the anger or tension.
4 Take up a hobby to distract yourself from your anxieties, and use it to _____.
5 Stress makes us want to run away or _____ the wolf we are imagining, so use that urge and wear yourself out with some running, swimming, or aerobics.

III. Fill in the blanks with the words or phrases above. Change the form if necessary.

1 Parks in the neighbourhood are ideal places to _____.
2 Manners are a problem for applicants who _____ for an interview.
3 We should call on people to _____ pollution.
4 The supermarket designers know what foods to place in which locations to _____ such purchases.
5 They were _____ and are among my most valued treasures.

IV. Listen to the sentences from the video and the passage above. Identify phrases to match the Chinese translation below.

1 向公司请病假 _____
2 感觉不在状态 _____
3 改变应激反应 _____
4 将消极体验变为积极 _____
5 拒绝变化 _____

Speaking for Communication

Discussion Skill: Supporting Your Ideas by Paraphrasing and Quoting Others

In a discussion, a speaker will sometimes support his or her ideas by giving, or citing the source of a piece of information. This is usually done by paraphrasing or quoting another person, such as an expert in the field. The following sentence patterns might be used to signal that a speaker is using someone else's words or ideas to support his or her ideas in the discussion.

Paraphrasing (not exact words)

[source] states/says/suggests/argues/believes that ...

In [title], [source] says/states/suggests/argues that ...

According to [source], ...

To paraphrase [source], ...

Quoting (exact words)

[source] was quoted as saying "..."

[source] said, "..."

In the words of [source], "..."

To quote [source], "..."

This is what [source] calls "..."

Examples:

1 William James says that the greatest weapon against stress is our ability to choose one thought over another.

2 A Chinese old saying states that misfortune may be an actual blessing.

3 To quote Oprah Winfrey, "Breathe. Let go. And remind yourself that this very moment is the only one you know you have for sure."

I. Listen to the discussion. Then practice the discussion in groups.

(A, B and C are talking about the coming final exams.)

A: Do you have the feeling that sometimes you just cannot stop worrying about a certain problem?

B: Yes, you remind me of our coming exams, and I just can't stop thinking about it.

C: Me neither. We all have to do a presentation in front of the class. It just annoys me. I don't know how to stay calm.

A: Have you ever thought about why you are so worried about it?

B: I joined an international program at the beginning of this term. You know, Mrs. Li suggested last term that we should be more active in school activities. And this program offered lots of interesting activities. But I missed many classes because of the program.

C: For me, a presentation is always like a nightmare. The embarrassment could kill me sometimes.

A: I could totally understand. But let's be honest, you are not thinking about how well it's going on, you are telling yourself you'll fail or you'll forget what to say.

B: You're right, but I believe the saying "lost time could never be recalled." How I wish I could have more time to study.

C: And how I wish I could be as eloquent as Obama!

A: Why not write down all the things you have to do. You'll definitely become more organized.

C: Is it like keeping a to-do-list?

A: Yes, you could keep this type of journal to focus on what you need to do, not what you have done and I'm sure it will help.

B: Is it like… once I complete it, I could take some of the weight out of my mind.

A: That's true! I remember William James says that the greatest weapon against stress is our ability to choose one thought over another. So stop over-thinking.

B: Thank you! I feel much better now. Maybe we could share our notes.

C: Maybe I should just try to do my best and stop trying to make everything in my life perfect.

II. Sometimes a few words from other people can help us look at things from a more positive perspective. Read the following journal of a college student and discuss the questions.

Journal

I used to worry about everything. Then one of my teachers told us a saying I'll never forget. It basically says, "For every problem under the sun, there is either a solution or there is none. If there is one, think till you find it. If there is none, then never mind it." It really helped me change my attitude.

Questions for discussion:

Have you received any words of inspiration from other people when you are stressed out? How do such words help you deal with stress?

Do you think practicing Tai Chi could help people stay healthy? What might be the actual benefits? This video shows how you could exercise away your stress by practicing Tai Chi.

I. Below is a police officer's diagnosis report on his health problem. Watch the video and fill in each blank with no more than three words.

Diagnosis Report

Name: Alex Mendoza

Age: 1 _____

Occupation: police officer

Address: the city of Irvine

Statement of the problem

- Cause: plenty of stress from work
- Symptom: an 2 _____ in the back, stomach and other areas

Treatment

Taking Dr. Lin's (the University of Irvine) Tai Chi class in the 3 _____

Effect

4 _____ helps him reduce the stress symptoms and 5 _____ on his job, which used to be commanding.

II. ▶ In this video, both Dr. Lin and the police officer state the benefits of Tai Chi. Review the steps to identify arguments and study the identification methods. Then watch the video again and finish the exercise.

Critical Thinking Skill: Identifying an Argument

In Unit 3, Book 1, we've learned three steps to identify arguments, namely to identify the context, the conclusion and the reasons of an argument. In this unit, let's focus on how to identify arguments based on the three steps.

1. How to identify the context:

- Be aware of some obvious argument contexts — debates, classrooms, the media, discussion with friends, etc.
- Pay attention to words and phrases that mark arguments, e.g., "argument", "my view", "my point", etc.

2. How to identify the conclusion:

- Pay attention to the beginning or the end of an argument, e.g., the beginning or the end of the paragraph that contains the argument.
- Find words or sentences that appear several times in an argument.
- Pay attention to "conclusion markers", e.g. "therefore", "thus", "hence", "as a result", "as a consequence", etc.

3. How to identify the reasons:

- Look for "reason markers", e.g. "because", "since", "in light of", "according to", "considering", "in fact", etc.

Identify the context: Alex Mendoza has dealt with plenty of stress and it's 1 _____. For the past six months, he's been taking Dr. Shin Lin's community Tai Chi class.

Identify the conclusion: "I'm 2 _____. I don't remember the last time I got a cold." And he believes Tai Chi 3 _____ that.

Identify the reasons:

- In his lab, Dr. Lin measures brainwaves, heart rate, blood flow and temperature while subjects 4 _____.
- Dr. Lin's class is all about balance. For Alex, finding balance here not only reduced his stress symptoms, it also helped change his approach on the job.

III. Work in groups and discuss the questions.

1 Apart from Tai Chi, can you think of other traditional Chinese exercises that can help people reduce stress and keep fit?

2 How could we increase the popularity of traditional Chinese exercises among young people?

News Report

I. Listen to the news report and choose the best answer.

She shares with neighbours the 4 _____. She made her first mille crepe with the help of her son.	"We had a great 5 _____ baking together. It was the best birthday gift I ever made for my husband."

Putting into Practice: Project

Many stress-handling strategies are mentioned in this unit, but different people must have their own special ways of coping with stress. Work in groups and do a survey on college students' stresses (their "stressors") and how they handle them.

You may take the following steps:

1 Discuss with group members some stress-related interview questions you can ask. You could also search the Internet for information about stress. The following questions are for your reference:

- Have you ever felt stressed in college?
- What are the main causes of your stress?
- How do you feel physically and emotionally when you are under pressure?
- What do you usually do to handle stress?

2 Interview some students on campus on stressors in their life and their ways to handle different stressors. Fill in the following table with the information you have collected.

Stressor	Ways to Handle It
Stressor 1

UNIT 3

Enjoying Sports

A sound mind in a sound body, is a short, but full description of a happy state in this world.

— John Locke (1632–1704, an English philosopher)

Lead-in

I. Watch a video about a sport. What do you think of this sport? Would you like to try it?

II. Watch the video again and fill in the blanks with the words given in the box.

volleyball	gymnastics	creative
basketball	trampolines	lands

In the video, the speaker introduces a relatively new sport called 1 _____. It's a combination of 2 _____, 3 _____ and 4 _____. Two teams of 3 to 5 players compete on an inflatable court with 5 _____ on each side. They can serve the ball in a 6 _____ way. They're allowed one touch with their hands or two with other body parts. Points are scored based on where the ball 7 _____.

III. Work in pairs and discuss the questions.

1 Why do people enjoy sports?

2 What is your favourite sport? How does it benefit you?

Listening Skill: Listening for Main Ideas

In Unit 3, Book 1, we've learned some techniques that speakers often use to stress important points in their discourse, for instance, certain expressions introducing topics or major points, rhetorical questions, repetition, and pace. In this unit, we're going to reinforce the skill. The following tips may help you listen for main ideas.

1 The main idea is normally stated in the beginning and emphasized at the end. If it is not explicitly stated, listen to what the supporting details have in common and infer the main idea accordingly.

2 Distinguish the main idea from supporting details. Main points are often more general and supported by details such as specific examples, data, statistics, reasons and quotes.

Listening as Acquisition

Pronunciation Skill: Linking Consonant to Vowel

In Unit 3, Book 1, we've learned linking consonant to vowel. In this unit, let's reinforce this skill. Please review the concept as follows.

One of the most important aspects of pronunciation and listening is to understand that native English speakers connect their words and change the sounds of words when speaking naturally. Connected speech allows one to speak efficiently and with flow and rhythm.

When a word ends in a consonant sound and is followed by a word that starts with a vowel sound, the speaker should push that consonant sound forward and connect it to the vowel in the next word.

I. Pay attention to the consonant-vowel linking in the following sentences, and repeat them after the speaker.

1 Students nationwide would line up every morning in playgrounds to bend, stretch, jump and run on the spot.

2 In no time the heroes sparked tides of followers taking part in sports such as soccer, tennis and basketball.

3 Take basketball as an example.

4 Working out in the gym has been a new trend in China.

II. Listen to the sentences from the video and the speech above. Then fill in the blanks with the words or phrases you hear.

1 Radio calisthenics _____ China in the 1950s.

2 Many also _____ leisure sports like hula hooping.

3 And then, Chinese women volleyball team _____ their first Olympic gold medal.

4 Since China _____ a national fitness plan in 1995, the Chinese have found more fun, trendy and relaxing ways of keeping fit.

5 When we talk about group activity in China, you can't _____ square dancing.

III. Fill in the blanks with the words or phrases above. Change the form if necessary.

1 The president said he would _____ a new health care plan in the next couple of months.

2 I taught her everything about the sport without _____ any details.

3 The wave of patriotism _____ the country.

4 When I get my first paycheck I'm going to _____ a shopping spree.

5 Jets can now _____ a play-off spot by winning their last two games.

IV. The following sentences are taken from the video and the speech above. Complete each sentence by translating the Chinese in the brackets into English. Then listen to the sentences and compare your translations with the originals.

1 Big names like Yao Ming, Li Na and Liu Xiang _____ (被广泛认可) with the help of live TV broadcasts.

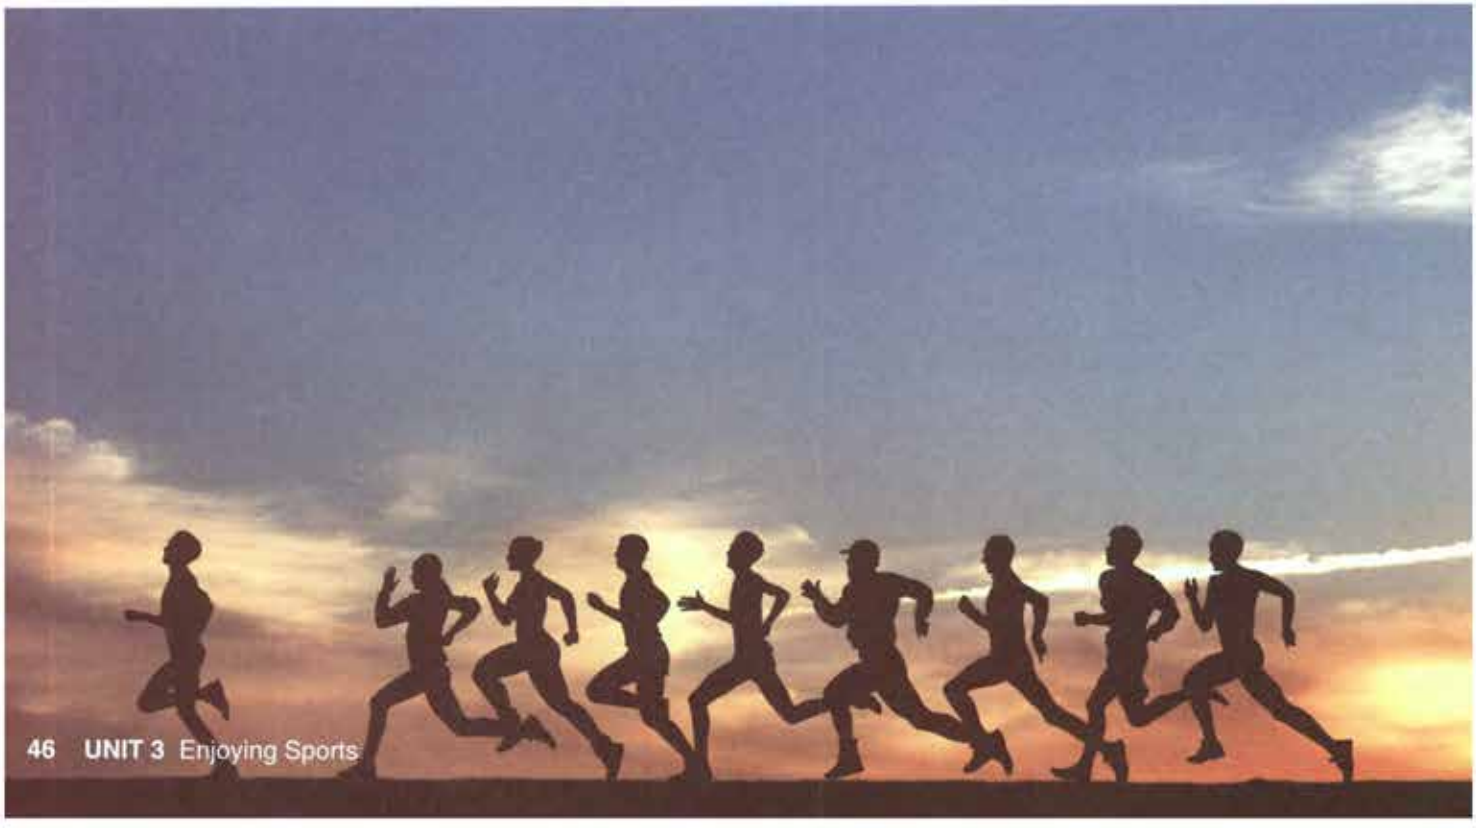

2 _____ (在健身房锻炼) has become a new trend in China.

3 Running or jogging is the simplest exercise but it _____ (已呈现新的面貌) in China.

4 Beijing will _____ (主办) 2022 Olympic Winter Games.

5 Over the past 70 years the sports industry has become a new _____ (中国经济的支柱).

6 _____ (摆在我们面前的是) is a healthier and happier future.

Speaking for Communication

Discussion Skill: Expressing Interest and Asking for Elaboration

The goal of a discussion is to explore a topic deeply by having participants share their ideas, opinions, and experiences related to the topic. You can show that you are listening to others by offering a response (rejoinder) that shows your feelings about the ideas being expressed. Also, an active participant will encourage others to elaborate on their ideas by asking follow-up questions. These can be general questions (such as who, what, when, how and why) or more detailed questions that specifically refer to what others have said. Follow-up questions help you learn more about other people's ideas and experiences, and can keep a discussion going.

Interested	Surprised	Follow-up question
I see.	You're kidding!	Who ...?
That's nice.	Really?	What ...?
Oh, yeah?/Yeah?	No way!	When ...?
Uh-huh.	Wow!	How ...?
		Why ...?

Examples:

1 May I ask why you say that?

2 It sounds like an interesting sport! What is the rule for serving in Bossaball?

3 I see. But when did China roll out a national fitness plan?

I. Listen to the discussion. Then practice the discussion in groups.

(A, B, and C are discussing which sport is the best one to play.)

A: At one time or another, I've either participated in or tried playing a variety of sports, and now I believe that basketball is the best sport out there.

B: May I ask why you say that?

A: First, it's beneficial both physically and socially. It's a team sport that works your whole body. It can improve your endurance, speed and agility as well as teamwork skills. Second, it's one of the cheapest sports to play. All you need for a game are just one basketball and two hoops, sometimes even just one! And that could work for up to ten people at once.

C: That's nice. But when it comes to convenience, badminton beats basketball, because badminton can be played at any open space, even without a net, whereas basketball requires at least one hoop on a court.

B: I agree. So do you think badminton is the best sport to play? What are the other advantages of badminton? (Looking at C)

C: Yes, I do. My second point is, badminton is a non-contact sport and involves relatively less injuries than basketball does.

A: That's true. I just had my nose broken last year when I played basketball.

B: Really? What happened?

A: That was in a basketball game between my class and class Two. I was playing centre and doing a lay-up when a boy from the other team elbowed my nose. My nose was bleeding badly. They called a time-out to make sure I was OK. After that game, I had to stop playing basketball for six weeks to recover.

C: That's awful. Basketball is one of the high injury risk sports. That's why I prefer badminton.

B: On balance, basketball is more exciting and more fun, yet with higher risk of injuries. Perhaps there is no such a perfect sport that has the best of both worlds.

II. Work in groups and practice expressing interest and asking for elaboration in discussion on the topic "my fitness plan".

Between classes, homework, exams, socializing and extra-curricular commitments, college students can have enough trouble finding the time to sleep, let alone exercise. However, exercise is vital to one's wellness. Regular physical activities can act as a welcome break from coursework, and more importantly, improve the quality of sleep and reduce stress. In order to have a sound body and sound mind, how do you keep active and enjoy sports in your busy and colourful college life? What is your fitness plan?

A. To overcome fear of trying something new, I'll just do it.

B. I like being scared.

C. Snowboarding is awesome.

D. It's only dangerous if we let it be dangerous.

II. ▶ In this video, the kids share their opinions about the sports they enjoy doing. What are the implications that we can draw from the video? Review the following tips on how to draw implications from a statement. Then watch the video again and fill in the blanks.

Critical Thinking Skill: Drawing Implications

In Unit 6, Book 1, we've learned to notice the implications there might be behind a statement and draw implications through reasoning. Now let's review the steps:

1 Identify the argument and understand what is stated.

2 Interpret the meanings of the premise and conclusion in the argument.

3 Figure out how the premise and conclusion are logically connected.

4 Find the evidence that supports the inferences or implications.

5 Check whether your inference is logical by asking yourself "Is this inference logical?" or "Does my interpretation make sense?"

Kid 1:

Premise: It's true that chair skating is really dangerous, but there are certain things that we do to not let ourselves get hurt.

Conclusion: It's only dangerous if _____.

Inference: It is _____ if we exercise caution.

Kid 2:

Premise: I started snowboarding when I was two.

Conclusion: To overcome fear of trying something new, I'll just do it.

Inference: Snowboarding helps me _____.

Kid 3:

Premise: I like being _____. And snowboarding makes me feel scared.

Conclusion: So I like that feeling.

Inference: I like _____.

Kid 4:

Premise: Snowboarding is awesome _____ you're outdoors, get to be around people that you like.

Conclusion: It's like, _____ sport ever.

Inference: Snowboarding brings benefits.

The implication we can draw from the video:

III. Work in groups and discuss the following questions.

1 Extreme sports for kids are on the rise, with more technical tricks and stunts on skateboards and mountain bikes. But some people worry that kids aren't mentally and physically prepared for this kind of risky play. Should kids take part in extreme sports? Why or why not?

2 When we are playing competitive sports, how should we treat our opponents, referees, our own team and ourselves? How should we behave when we win a game or lose a game?

News Report

I. Listen to the news report and choose the best answer.

1 A. A research-based program for endurance training.

B. Student-athletes at a sports university in Manchester.

C. A report concerning the best training to build strength.

2 A. Athletes' muscle power.

B. Athletes' ability to jump from a standing position.

C. Athletes' speed of running.

D. Athletes' oxygen use.

3 A. Because they are trained by both endurance athletes and power athletes.

B. Because they have both endurance training and power training.

C. Because they support each other in a team.

D. Because they get lots of exercise.

II. Listen to the news report again and fill in the blanks.

1 Training as part of a sports team is the best way to improve _____.

2 There were 87 _____ athletes, such as cyclists, skiers and long-distance runners; 77 _____ athletes, such as sprinters and bodybuilders; ...

3 The researchers tested some athletes on their muscle power and their ability to jump _____.

4 The study showed that "endurance training for power athletes and power training for endurance athletes" was beneficial, and team players have _____.

Conversation

I. Listen to the long conversation and choose the best answer.

1 A. The importance of counting steps.

B. The importance of exercise.

C. The various ways of exercise.

D. The best way of keeping fit.

Social	Make friends with a whole bunch of fellow table tennis 7 _____.
8 _____	A basic paddle is around 10 dollars.

Putting into Practice: Project

There are 8,000 indigenous sports and sporting games worldwide, and they are deeply ingrained in different cultures around the world. Learning about sports helps us get to know more about our surroundings and break down language and cultural barriers. Work in groups, research on a specific sport and do a group presentation on it.

You may take the following steps:

1 Discuss in groups and decide on one sport that the whole group will present. The following questions are for your reference:

- Where do people play this sport?
- What equipment do people need to buy?
- How is the game played?
- How do people win in this game?

2 Draw up a plan of the content to be included in the presentation, e.g. brief history of the sport, when and where to play/watch the sport, the rules and fouls, famous athletes playing this sport, vocabulary related to the sport, etc. Each group member may focus on one or two topics. For example:

Content Plan

Topics	Details
Introduce the sport	Basketball is one of the most popular sports in the world.
Give a brief history of the sport	The first game of basketball was played in the United States in 1892.
Describe how the sport is played	• It is played by two teams of five players. • Players throw a ball through a basket to score. • Players cannot kick or carry the ball.
Describe where to watch the game	• You can watch the games on television. • The most viewed games are some professional games.
List famous teams and players	• Famous teams: LA Lakers, Golden State Warriors • Famous players: Yao Ming, LeBron James
Describe fouls	Players cannot: • take a long time to make a throw • stop the ball going into the basket when it is just going in • use their body to stop other players

3 Work out the division of labour. Each member should focus on one area or research for one section of the presentation.

4 Search the Internet for more information about the sport.

5 Prepare visual aids, such as PowerPoint or a video.

6 Make a presentation to the whole class.

Listening Skill: Listening for Details

As we've learned in Unit 4, Book 1, advanced listening requires us to comprehend not only the main idea but also important details. In this unit, we will review and reinforce the skill of listening for details. To be specific, when we listen for details, we are actually trying to get the following types of information:

- facts and statistics
- sensory descriptions
- examples
- personal experiences and observations
- reasons

Pronunciation Skill: Linking Consonant to Consonant

In Unit 4, Book 1, we have learned when pronouncing certain stop consonants (/p/, /t/, /k/, /b/, /d/, /g/), the blocked air used in pronouncing them may only be partly released. In this unit, we are going to reinforce this skill and learn the following new rules.

1. Linking between the same stop consonants

When the final consonant sound in the first word is the same as the first sound in the second word, and the sound is a stop, the former sound is held for extra time, then released.

Example: good day

start time

2. Linking between the same continuous consonants

To link the same continuous consonant (i.e., /s/, /z/, /f/, /v/, /m/, /n/, /l/, /r/, /θ/), hold the linked sound for slightly more time than a single sound.

Example: gas station

same message

3. Linking stop consonants to other consonant sounds

To link different stop sounds, or a stop sound to a continuous sound, do not release the first stop consonant, but hold it and then pronounce the next sound immediately.

Example: big deal

old man

I. Pay attention to the linking of consonant to consonant in the following sentences, and repeat them after the speaker.

1 Without a doubt, humans have dramatically altered various facets of Planet Earth in a matter of centuries.

2 As we mark Earth Day, it's worthwhile to reflect on five ways we have changed our planet in the last 100 years.

3 In just about a hundred years, the population has ballooned to over 7 billion.

4 The world's largest cities have seen huge population spikes.

5 Not one of them was available to most people in 1913.

6 A recent report noted that 6 billion people have access to cell phones today.

II. Listen to the sentences from the video and the passage above. Then fill in the blanks with the words or phrases you hear.

1 _____ that there aren't any drawbacks.

2 _____, advanced technology is affecting our traditional ways of life in unchangeable ways.

3 Modern technology _____ multifunctional devices like the smartwatch and the smartphone.

4 In just about a hundred years, the population _____ over 7 billion.

5 A recent report noted that 6 billion people _____ cell phones today.

III. Fill in the blanks with the words or phrases above. Change the form if necessary.

1 The medical discovery _____ the development of effective new treatments for cancer.

2 _____, we are already involved in this issue.

3 Eating too much and having little exercise, he has seen his weight _____ to 100 kg within half a year.

4 With Internet connection, we _____ rich sources of information.

5 _____ that human actions have threatened the survival of many plants and animals.

IV. The following sentences are taken from the video and passage above. Complete each sentence by translating the Chinese in the brackets into English. Then listen to the sentences and compare your translations with the originals.

1 Technology has created amazing tools and resources, putting useful information _____ _____（触手可及）.

2 We can use these gadgets to _____（与朋友和家人保持联系） wherever we are.

3 Modern hospitals _____（装备了） the latest technologically advanced equipment to take care of their patients.

4 Without a doubt, humans have dramatically _____（改变了行星地球的方方面面） in a matter of centuries.

5 As we mark Earth Day, _____（值得我们去反思） five ways we have changed our planet in the last 100 years.

Speaking for Communication

Discussion Skill: Asking for Clarification

Clarification is important in discussion especially when what is being communicated is difficult in some way. By asking for clarification, you aim to ensure that your understanding of what the speaker has said is correct and to reassure the speaker that you are genuinely interested in what he or she is trying to say.

You may use the following ways to ask for clarification:

Asking for Repetition

- Would you mind repeating that for me?
- Would you mind going over that one more time?
- Sorry, could I ask you to tell me that…again?
- Could you clarify what you meant by…?
- Could you be more specific?
- I don't think I got your meaning. Could you go over that again?
- I don't think I quite understand what you meant. Would you mind repeating that?

Repeating and Restating the Other Person's Idea

- Let me see if I understood correctly.
- I'd just like to confirm that I got that right.
- So what you are saying is...Does that sound right?
- If I understand you correctly, you are saying...
- You mean...?
- I think you are saying...
- In other words, ...

Responding

- Thanks for clarifying. I understand better now.
- Thank you for repeating that. It makes more sense to me.
- Thanks. We seem to be on the same page now.
- I appreciate the clarification. Glad we agree on that.
- Sorry, I still don't understand.
- I'm sorry, but could you explain that one more time?

I. Listen to the discussion. Then practice the discussion in groups.

(A, B, and C are discussing how to get financial aid to make school payment.)

A: I really need to get help with the payment for my classes, some sort of financial aid. The problem is I don't know much about it.

B: Hold on please. You mean you want financial aid and you don't know how to get it?

A: Yeah. I saw this poster about work-study programs. Can you tell me something about that?

C: The work-study programs? I think you're talking about the government sponsored work-study program.

A: Mm, that's it. Can you say something more about how it works?

C: Well, it works like this: you work on campus and get paid an hourly wage just like a regular job. However, instead of getting a paycheck, the money goes directly to your bill for your courses, but almost all work-study jobs pay minimum wage, which is usually pretty low. The truth is: you might do better getting a job off campus since you can do whatever you want with the money, like paying your rent or...or buying textbooks.

A: Thanks for clarifying. It makes more sense to me now.

B: Do you know that our university has various programs offered to help students cover their school payment, such as scholarships and students' loans?

A: Scholarship? I'd just like to confirm that I got that right.

B: You are right. Indeed, that's your best bet really, if you can find a good scholarship, because you don't have to pay the money back.

C: And you might qualify if your grades are good enough or if you have the right background.

A: That sounds like something I should try for. I think you are saying I will be qualified if I have good grades or the right background.

C: Of course, there are numerous sources for scholarships. For example, foundations, organizations from all over the country offer scholarships or other financial assistance to college students.

B: And all kinds of companies have programs to help their employees' children go to college.

A: Could you clarify what you meant by saying that companies have programs to help…

B: What I said is if either of your parents works for a large corporation, the company may offer a scholarship for you.

A: Okay. Good idea. Hey, my dad works for a big accounting firm and he's a member of a professional accounting organization. Do you think they'd offer financial aid?

B: Yes, that's fairly common, especially if you are planning to go into accounting.

A: You guys are great! I appreciate the clarification. I understand better now.

II. Work in groups and practice asking for clarification in discussion on the topic "Technology has greatly changed people's lives".

Technological advances come with both benefits and drawbacks.

In your discussion, you may follow the steps below:

1 Choose one specific aspect as the topic for your discussion.

2 Use specific examples to illustrate your argument.

3 Try to ask for clarification whenever you are confused or at a loss.

4 Present your discussion to the class.

Shenzhen, as the window of China's reform and opening-up, has undergone a transformation from a fishing village to a city of opportunity. In this video, you will see her great change within 40 years.

I. Watch the video and complete the table below.

Shenzhen is a gleaming monument to China's economic miracle.
Arguments	Evidence
It's China's technological 1 _____.	• It has a population of 12 million. • Entrepreneurs, tech graduates and international companies flock here to 2 _____.

The effects were explosive for Shenzhen was declared 3 _____.	• The population 4 _____ in just over 30 years. • The city has a massive 5 _____. • Silicon Valley 6 _____ the tech hardware. • Shenzhen's tech hardware 7 _____.
Shenzhen's foods scene is as varied as its population.	• Shang Palace in the Shangri-La Hotel will give you a full 8 _____. • The dim sum lunch is 9 _____ for the eyes and the mouth. • The Chinese Hot Pot flavoured with Sichuan pepper packs 10 _____.

II. In this video, the speaker demonstrates that Shenzhen is a gleaming monument to China's economic miracle. Read the following questions which can help you recognize weaknesses in an argument. Then watch the video again and finish the tasks.

Critical Thinking Skill: Recognizing Weaknesses in an Argument

In Unit 8, Book 1, we've learned possible weaknesses in an argument. In this unit, let's continue to learn about how to recognize possible weaknesses in the evidence. Generally speaking, a strong claim requires the writer or speaker to provide evidence that is strong and trustworthy. The evidence must be convincing and relevant to what is being argued upon. To decide whether a piece of evidence is strong or weak, you may ask yourself the following questions:

- Is the evidence true or accurate?
- Is the evidence sufficient? Is there enough of it, or is more convincing evidence needed?
- Is the evidence relevant? Is it really about the claim the author wants to prove, or does the speaker provide facts that don't have anything to do with the claim?
- Is the evidence representative? Representative evidence accurately portrays the object of study.

1 Examine the evidence presented in Exercise I based on the questions above. Discuss with your classmates whether the evidence is strong enough.

2 Work in pairs and find ways to strengthen the evidence.

III. Work in groups and discuss the questions.

1 According to your understanding, what does migrant workforce mean? In the video, the speaker uses the fact "over 4 million residents stay during the week and then return home on the weekend" as a piece of evidence to prove that "the city has a massive migrant workforce." Is the evidence strong or weak? Why?

2 The video doesn't offer us a conclusion. What conclusion can you draw based on the arguments presented?

News Report

I. Listen to the news report and choose the best answer.

1 A. The weather condition is improved.
B. More crops are transformed.
C. A part of the desert is turning into an oasis.
D. The landscape of the desert is beautified.

2 A. It's developed by researchers from Beijing.
B. It's artificial material added to sand.
C. It costs more than controlled environmental agriculture.
D. Its future is hard to tell.

3 A. To turn all the world's deserts into farmlands.
B. To reforest 50% of the world's deserts.
C. To tackle the problem of global warming.
D. To reach zero growth of desert farmland.

II. Listen to the news report again and fill in the blanks.

1 Little rain and _____ are not ideal conditions to support vegetation.

2 When it's added to sand, it's able to _____ water, nutrients and air.

3 The method could be _____ for China.

Putting into Practice: Project

"Four Essential Possessions" (FSPs, 四大件) may sound strange to you, yet, for a long time, they have been not only a reflection of the family wealth, but also a dream for many newlyweds, because they are a symbol of happy and prosperous family life. A review on the changes of a family's FSPs can reveal both the improvement of your family life and the progress China has witnessed in the past years. Work in groups and write a newspaper article reflecting the changes of a Chinese family's FSPs.

You may take the following steps:

1 Get familiar with the terminology of FSPs.

2 Find as much information as possible about the FSPs in different times, particularly in the 1970s, 1980s, and 1990s. Fill in the table below.

Times	FSPs
	Item 1	Item 2	Item 3	Item 4
1970s
1980s

3 Interview your family members (grandparents, parents, etc.) to learn about your family's FSPs, and collect pictures of them if possible. The following questions are for your reference:

- What items of FSPs did you want to have the most when you got married? Why?
- What items of FSPs did you get when you got married?
- How did you feel about your family's FSPs?

4 Discuss with your family members and decide on the four most essential possessions your family now have in the 2020s.

5 Share your survey results with your group members. Discuss in groups and decide on the information your group would like to cover in the article.

6 Review your research and notes. Then jot down ideas for the following six sections.

- Lead sentence: Grab and hook your reader right away.
- Introduction: Which facts and figures will ground your story?
- Opening quotation: What will give the reader a sense of the people involved and what they are thinking?
- Main body: What is at the heart of your story?
- Closing quotation: Find something that sums the article up in a few words.

7 Share your newspaper article with the whole class.

Listening Skill: Identifying a Speaker's Intent

As we've learned in Unit 5, Book 1, good listeners are able to detect a speaker's intent by tone, vocabulary, sentence structure, and voice quality. In this unit, we are going to reinforce this skill by focusing on the speaker's tone of speaking. The tone reflects the speaker's attitude toward the subject matter. It shows how he/she feels about the topic. For example, if a speech is full of facts and reasoning, it is often delivered in an objective tone. The objective tone is matter-of-fact and neutral. On the other hand, a speaker who shares his or her personal story may speak in a subjective tone. A subjective tone often involves words that describe feelings, judgements, or opinions.

• Don't ever be 3 _____ if you don't find anyone.	• Remember if your college dating life isn't what you imagined it would be, you have your whole life 4 _____ you.

Listening as Acquisition

Pronunciation Skill: Filler Words and Sounds

As is introduced in Unit 4, Book 1, a filler word is an apparently meaningless word, phrase, or sound that marks a pause or hesitation in speech. Although filler sounds and words may have fairly minimal lexical content, they can play a strategic syntactic role in an unfolding utterance, especially to indicate a pause after which a person will continue talking, or to indicate hesitation or the need for a moment to think.

In this unit, we will continue to review and reinforce the pronunciation skill of filler sounds and words.

I. Pay attention to the filler sounds and words in the following sentences, and repeat them after the speaker.

1 There are a lot of definitions for love. I mean you love in different ways.
2 Love is 100% giving of self and um, thinking of the other person.
3 Being able or wanting to do anything that you can possibly do for the other person and having them do the same for you, um, cause you never know what you're gonna be called upon to do.
4 Well, for me, it's not walking around with hearts and flowers above my head all day, but it's...for me, it's kind of a lively relationship that has its ups and downs.

II. Listen to the sentences from the video and the passage above. Then fill in the blanks with the words or phrases you hear.

1 Love is 100% _____ and thinking of the other person.
2 Some have great luck and find their person in the _____ of those four years.
3 Meanwhile, some people _____ having a harder time dating.
4 First year is _____ new life experiences.
5 I knew some friends that _____ to date those that weren't worth their time only because they felt the need to have someone around constantly.

III. Fill in the blanks with the words or phrases above. Change the form if necessary.

1 My host family _____ to make me feel welcome.

2 When it comes to working from home, it's _____ self-discipline.

3 Social media is often blamed for reducing our attention _____.

4 He _____ to help the poor and less fortunate in his community.

5 The colour I preferred was sold out so I _____ getting this blue one.

IV. Listen to the sentences from the video and the passage above. Identify phrases to match the Chinese translation below.

1 永恒的爱 _____

2 时好时坏 _____

3 世界末日 _____

4 走出你的舒适圈 _____

5 匆匆忙忙确定一段关系 _____

Speaking for Communication

Discussion Skill: Agreeing and Disagreeing During a Discussion

Joining discussions is an important part of daily communication. You can contribute to a discussion by agreeing and disagreeing. It is important to learn how to disagree effectively. When you are trying to disapprove of another speaker's point, you want to do it in a polite and constructive way. That is to say, you should acknowledge the other speaker's points and ideas before explaining why and how you disagree. Common expressions used to show agreement and disagreement are as follows:

To agree with others

You are right.
I agree with you because…
That's just what I was thinking.
That's a good point.
You can say that again.
So / Neither do I.
I think so too.
I'd go along with that.
Exactly!
I couldn't agree more.
I was just going to say that.
You have a point there.
Yes, me too / me neither.
I'm with you.
I share your view.

To disagree with others

I agree with you to some extent / up to a point, but…
I am sorry (to disagree), but…
I see what you mean, but…
I can see your point, however…
That's a good point, but…
I see what you're getting at / where you're coming from, but…
You might be right, but…
I'm afraid I don't see it that way.
I'm not sure if I would go along with…
That's not always the case because…
That's not necessarily true because…
That doesn't make much sense to me.

Well, I'm not so sure about that.

Yes, but don't you think...?

I think what he/she may actually be suggesting is…

Examples:

1 Well, that's true. But it can be dangerous to judge your relationship against romantic ideals.

2 I have to side with Tony on this one. Long distance relationships are never going to work out.

3 I understand where you are coming from, but one-sided love is real and selfless. You get happy when that person is happy even though you aren't included in his or her happiness.

4 There is some truth to what you're saying, but don't you think that beauty is in the eye of the beholder?

I. Listen to the discussion. Then practice the discussion in groups.

(A, B and C are discussing love at first sight.)

A: Do you guys believe in love at first sight?

B: No, I don't. I think it takes time to get to know somebody well enough to know if you love him or her.

C: Me neither. But I have a friend who says when she saw her husband for the first time...

A: Love at first sight?

C: That's right — when they met for the first time, that was it: a bolt out of the blue. And they got married three months later.

B: Well, that sounds very romantic. Who do you think are more likely to believe in love at first sight? Men or women?

A: A glimpse of a smile is all it takes to fall head over heels in love — if you are a man.

C: That's just what I was thinking. Women appear to take much longer to give their hearts away.

B: You are right. A survey revealed that while only 42 percent of women believe in love at first sight, 72 percent of men think it is a real concept.

A: Well, I think you can be physically attracted to somebody straight away. I just don't think you can fall in love with somebody so easily. Love is about other things: compatibility, personality and a good sense of humour.

B: Yes, but apparently, for men it's all about physical appearance first.

C: I agree with you to some extent but appearance really doesn't count for much in the end. You could be with somebody who's very beautiful but if they are mean or boring that counts for much less.

A: You're right. And while we all enjoy a pretty face, most of us are looking for more than that. We are looking for people who appear friendly and who we share interests with.

C: Exactly — and personally, I think a good sense of humour is the most important quality. Don't you think so?

B: I'm afraid I don't see it that way. To me, nothing is more important than kind eyes.

A: Well, why don't we rank all those factors in order of importance? It'd be so much fun.

II. Work in groups and practice expressing agreement and disagreement in discussion on the topic "factors to consider in choosing a future life partner".

The following list provides some of the factors that you may consider when choosing a future life partner. Work independently to list the factors you care most about and then rank them in order of importance. You can also add to the list factors that you think are very important. Then compare your list with your group members and exchange your ideas.

1. appearance	2. personality
3. occupation	4. hobbies
5. family background	6. education background
7. intelligence	8. income (money)
9. health	10. love
11. parental approval	12. age
13. nationality	14. .....

Many people yearn for a long, loving and happy marriage, yet marriage in real life can be hard. In this video, a couple discovers the secret to a happy marriage thanks to a wedding present.

I. ▶ Watch the video and circle the best answer.

1 It was by far the greatest gift because it taught us so many lessons about (how to compromise / how to be married).
2 They finally opened the gift after nine years of (resolving their differences / constant fighting).
3 The wedding present from Cathy's great-aunt turned out to be very (special / unremarkable).

II. ▶ In this video, a couple shares with the audience a problem in their marriage and how they resolved the problem. Study the following five-step process of problem solving. Then watch the video again and match the statements in the box with the five steps.

Critical Thinking Skill: Solving a Problem

In Unit 5, Book 1, we have got familiar with the four-step process of problem solving. In this unit, we will go one step further and add evaluation as another important component of problem solving. Let's first review the four steps we've learned in Book 1:

1 Problem: What seems to be the problem?

2 Evidence: Is there any evidence to prove that the problem is real?

3 Causes: What's driving the problem?

4 Recommendations: What can be done to solve the problem?

If you have carefully followed all of the above steps of problem solving, you may now take the time to reflect on the process and outcome. How do we measure the effectiveness of the solution? That's when evaluation comes into play.

5 Evaluation: How did it go? (Check whether the solution was put into practice and whether the problem was finally solved.)

1 _____ Identify the problem

2 _____ Find the evidence of the problem

3 _____ Analyse the causes of the problem

4 _____ Suggest some solution(s)

5 _____ Evaluate the solution(s)

A. "You kind of wonder you know what is the time to turn to the box. Should we open the box? Do we need it right now? But what if the next is bad or worse. And we didn't have the box. Then what?"

B. By not turning to the box, Brandon and Cathy say they were forced to learn tolerance, compromise and patience.

C. The wedding present from Cathy's great-aunt Allison came with a card that read "Do not open until first disagreement."

D. Brandon and Cathy refused to surrender to that last wedding present despite some difficulties. They finally opened the gift nine years later only because they were confident they would never really need it.

E. Brandon and Cathy had a hard time deciding whether and when to open the wedding present from Allison, Cathy's great-aunt.

III. Work in groups and discuss the questions.

1 If you were Brandon or Cathy, how would you handle the wedding present? Why?

2 "What they found was remarkably unremarkable… And that's when it hit them. That the real gift wasn't anything in the box, that the real gift, the priceless gift, had been staring at them all along." What do you think is the real gift?

3 What do you think are the secrets to a happy marriage?

Putting into Practice: Project

China has a long history with countless stories and legends. Among them, four love stories (the Butterfly Lovers, the Cowherd and the Weaver Girl, the Legend of the White Snake, the Story of Lady Meng Jiang) have been passed down from generation to generation and never fail to capture the imagination and hearts of people around the world. Work in groups and present one of the four greatest love stories in Chinese history.

You may take the following steps:

1 Work in groups of four and collect information relevant to the story your group has chosen.

2 Share the story in the groups that work on the same story and vote for the best version.

3 Present the best version of each story to the whole class. You may consider the following six elements when telling the story.

- Setting

Listening as Comprehension

Listening Skill: Listening for Discourse Markers I

As we've learned in Book 1, discourse markers are words or phrases that signal important pieces of information. They help us understand and predict what will come next and thus facilitate our listening comprehension. Do you remember the discourse markers for giving examples, showing contrast and sequencing? Now, let's review what we have learned.

- Discourse markers giving examples include expressions like such as, for example, like this, etc.
- Discourse markers for contrasting include words like despite, while, however, but, it's not…, etc.
- Discourse markers for sequencing include words like firstly, in the first place, afterwards, then, etc.

* It should be noted that there are more creative ways to let your audience know where they are situated. For example, we can use structures like "There are some… One of…is" to give examples. And we may say "The first problem with this practice is…", or "The next thing to consider is…" or "My last advice is…" for sequencing.

Pronunciation Skill: Word Stress

In Unit 6, Book 1, we've learned word stress. In this unit, let's reinforce this skill and learn more about word stress. First, please review the concepts as follows.

All words of more than one syllable have word stress. This means that at least one of the syllables is read longer, louder, higher and clearer than the other syllables.

There are two very important rules about word stress:

- One word, one stress.
- The stress is always on a vowel.

Next, we're going to learn four more rules about word stress.

- Stress on the first syllable

  In most two-syllable nouns and adjectives, the stress is often on the first syllable. For example, China, table, happy.

- Stress on the last syllable

  In most two-syllable verbs, the stress is often on the last syllable. For example, begin, maintain.

- Stress on the preceding syllable

  Polysyllabic words ending with the following suffixes are stressed on the preceding syllable: -tion, -ic, -ical, -tial, -atory, -city. For example, action, historic, historical, initial, laboratory, electricity.

- Stress unchanged

  The stress of words with the following suffixes remains unchanged: -able, -age, -ful, -hood, etc. For example, count & countable, marry & marriage, care & careful, child & childhood.

I. Pay attention to the word stress in the following sentences, and repeat them after the speaker.

1 Giving is so important in our world both as an education for our children and as adults because giving makes us happy.

2 Those animals will be grateful and so will the SPCA for your donation.

3 You don't consider it to be a favour to your kids to give them enormous wealth?

4 In malaria, when we announced a grant for fifty million, we became the biggest private funders.

II. Listen to the sentences from the video and the passage above. Then fill in the blanks with the words or phrases you hear.

1 I actually buy the next person _____ a coffee.

2 It _____ instantly and starts to create that _____ of giving everywhere.

3 Those animals will be grateful and so will the SPCA for your donation. That hasn't _____.

4 Mr. Gates, you have already given roughly thirty billion dollars to the foundation, and you say you'll _____ 90% of your money.

5 You're trying to find the places where the money will have the most leverage, how you can save the most lives for the dollar, _____.

III. Fill in the blanks with the words or phrases above. Change the form if necessary.

1 Living more sustainably doesn't have to be expensive. The following are five green resolutions that won't _____.

2 He was _____ his collection _____ for nothing.

3 Just the thought of you _____ completely.

4 I have been standing _____ for three hours.

5 Practice waking up and being grateful for simply being alive and see the _____ it creates.

6 It was putting the cart before the horse, _____.

IV. The following sentences are taken from the video and the passage above. Complete each sentence by translating the Chinese in the brackets into English. Then listen to the sentences and compare your translations with the originals.

1 Go through your clothes, get rid of what you don't need and _____（把它捐给有需要的人）.

2 It doesn't cost you anything and _____（把它送给其他人总比放在盒子里好）.

3 _____（动物和SPCA都会感激）for your donation.

4 You don't _____（认为是对你的孩子们的恩惠）to give them enormous wealth?

5 And so, the fact that it kills over a million children a year and yet has almost no money given to it, you know, that _____（让我们觉得很奇怪）.

6 You're trying to find the places where the money will _____（最有影响力）.

Speaking for Communication

Discussion Skill: Expanding on Your Own Ideas

Sometimes during a group or class discussion, you want to add more details or information to something you have already said. The following are some phrases to help you to go back to your original idea and expand on it.

What I meant before was ...
I'd like to go back to what I was saying earlier ...
Let me add something to what I said before ...
What I was trying to say was ...
About my earlier point ...
About what I said earlier ...
I'd like to take my earlier point a step further ...

Examples:

1 What I meant before was giving often created a ripple effect. That's to say, my simple behaviour brightens their day and the warmth will be spread.
2 I'd like to go back to what I was saying earlier. Money can't buy happiness.
3 Let me add something to what I said before. I want my money to be used in the right place. Therefore, to figure out how, I use my brain to figure out which charitable organizations are trustworthy.
4 What I was trying to say was when you borrow something from someone, you should take good care of it.
5 About my earlier point, I didn't mean we should not donate money. What I meant was taking part in voluntary activities was also philanthropic behaviour.

I. Listen to the discussion. Then practice the discussion in groups.

(A, B and C are discussing whether it is better to donate money or be a volunteer.)

A: Hey, look at the article "Is it better to give to a charity or volunteer"? What do you think?

B: Donating money or contributing time? That's an interesting topic. For sure both are important. Supporting causes, whether with your time or money, can do great things for both you and the world at large.

C: Sure, I agree with you on that point. And it depends on that person's financial condition. If you are rich, oh no, you don't have to be very rich. I mean, if you have money to spare, giving to a charity is a wonderful way of making an impact.

A: But we, poor college students, can also help out. We can be volunteers.

C: You said it.

B: There is no doubt that personal financial condition is an important factor. But other factors count as well. For example, what do you want to gain from the charitable activity?

A: What do you mean?

B: To make it clear, I'd like to go back to what I was saying earlier. Supporting causes is beneficial for both you and the people being helped because getting involved helps you stay connected and promotes the wellbeing of others.

C: It's a win-win situation.

A: Right. Money helps. But how to understand "getting involved helps you stay connected"?

C: Volunteering work involves interacting with other people, which gives you an opportunity to build relationships.

B: Good point. Let me add something to what I said just now. Volunteering has many other benefits, such as help you learn new skills, gain experience and sometimes qualifications. You can even take on a challenge and have fun.

A: Unlike donation, volunteering gives first-hand insight into how you're making a difference and brings a sense of achievement.

C: Yes, thus volunteering better suits us college students.

II. Work in groups and practice expanding on your own ideas. Paul, a reporter is interviewing Katia, a freshman, about her views on charity. Read the interview aloud and discuss the following questions.

Paul: Hi, Katia. Thank you for joining our program. I'd like to ask you several questions on charity. The first question is do you give money to charity?

Katia: Well, it's a difficult question because you really want to help people, but I always question myself if the money really gets to where it's supposed to go. So personally I rarely give money to charities. I'd rather give my time, I mean, taking part in some voluntary activities.

Paul: Yeah, I guess that makes sense. If it's a registered charity then I don't see there's a problem with giving a donation.

Katia: Yeah, I guess so, but really I wonder. There are so many charities in the world, and you wonder really how much money people actually get.

Paul: Next question, if you're walking down the street and you see a homeless person asking for money, what would you do?

Katia: Homeless people! That's also difficult because you are not sure whether they need money or they need food. Sometimes I feel if you give money, you are supporting their way of life so I would rather give some food so they can eat.

Paul: OK, like what you've said: It's better to donate your time than to donate money.

Questions for discussion:

1 What are Katia's concerns about donating money? Do you agree with her opinions? How can we solve the problems she has mentioned?

2 Do charities really help the poor to become independent in the long term or do they simply make poor people more dependent on charity just like what Katia said "you are supporting their way of life"?

I. ▶ Watch the video and finish the flow chart about the steps James needs to take to begin his philanthropy strategy.

Steps to Begin Philanthropy Strategy

1st step	Know what you care about.	James cares about education and 1 _____
2nd step	2 _____	James uses 3 _____. He sets aside 4 _____.
3rd step	5 _____	James finds an organization that is 6 _____ sequoias.

II. Study the following ways to identify the links between ideas. Then watch the video again, tick (√) the ways used and fill in the blanks with examples from the video.

Critical Thinking Skill: Identifying the Links Between Ideas

To facilitate listening comprehension, it's important to understand the links between ideas. In Unit 2, Book 1, we've learned that transitional words and forward-looking sentences can help us identify the links between ideas. Now, we are going to reinforce the skill and learn some other useful ways.

Expressions and sentence structures below can help you identify the links between ideas:

A. Repetition of key terms or synonyms to link ideas: "charitable efforts" and "volunteering activities", "donation" and "contribution of money", "like" and "be fond of", "know" and "figure out"...

B. Rhetorical questions to show what is coming next: What shall we do to protect the environment? The first is to ...

	Ways	Examples
☐	A. Transitional words or sentence patterns	• Words: ..... • Sentence patterns: .....
☐	B. Forward-looking sentences	• .....
☐	C. Repetition of key terms or synonyms	• Repetition: ..... • Synonyms: .....
☐	D. Rhetorical questions	.....

III. Work in groups and finish the following tasks.

1 According to the video, philanthropy is something that anyone can do, no matter your age, income or location. Do you agree with this opinion? Why or why not?

2 Use the steps mentioned in the video as a reference. Think of a charitable activity you want to take part in and share with your group members the steps you'll take. Please be as specific as possible.

Putting into Practice: Project

Finding the right place to donate is important. In China, we can choose public or private charitable foundations for our charitable activities. Work in groups and write a report on a charitable organization you are interested in.

You may take the following steps:

1 Search online and find information about a charitable organization you are interested in. You may focus on the following aspects:

- Mission
- Accomplishments
- How the organization accepts donations
- Actions we can take to help

2 Write a report about what you have learned. The report should consist of a general introduction to the organization and some detailed information. The project report may follow the format below.

One Foundation

Introduction: One Foundation (壹基金), formally known as _____, is a Chinese _____ which focuses on _____. It was registered in _____ as the first private charitable fundraising organization in China. The motto is _____ (Chinese: 尽我所能，人人公益).

Details:

Origin: It was founded by Chinese Red Cross ambassador _____ on _____. In a Newsweek article, Li cited his personal experience with the _____ as a source of inspiration for starting the foundation. At that time, _____.

The Mission: It takes part in many charitable activities because it takes it as its mission to _____.

Donations: It promotes donations under the slogan _____, with the goal of pooling together individual donations to _____.

Some well-known activities it held include: .....

Listening as Comprehension

Listening Skill: Listening for Discourse Markers II

As we've learned previously, discourse markers are very important in structuring a text or speech and connecting sentences in a meaningful and logical way. In this unit, we are going to review discourse markers showing cause and effect.

When you want to state the effect before the cause, you can use one of these discourse markers: result from, as a result of, due to, thanks to, because of.

When you want to state the cause before the effect, you may shift the two clauses or use one of the following discourse markers: result in, cause, be the cause of, as a result, consequently, hence, in that case, therefore, so as to, so, thus.

If an effect is based on a condition that may or may not be met, use the discourse markers then or otherwise.

Examples:

1 Globalization results in the expansion of international cultural, economic and political activities.

2 This may cause jobs to be moved to locations that have the lowest wages, least worker protection and lowest health benefits.

3 Why don't you ride a bicycle? Then you will be able to have a closer look at this place.

Listening as Acquisition

Pronunciation Skill: Staircase Intonation

In Unit 7, Book 1, we've learned staircase intonation. In this unit, let's reinforce this skill. Please review the concept as follows.

American native speakers use what is often called staircase intonation. Your pitch goes up on important points, and then works its way down as you speak. And you start a new staircase when you want to emphasize some new information, usually a noun.

Speaking with staircase intonation is not a difficult skill to practice. You begin your sentence in your "natural" tone. Then move up one step higher on the speech stairs early in your sentence, which is typically on the second or third word. Then move your pitch down the imaginary speech stairs on each syllable for the rest of your statement.

It will feel funny and slower than how you are currently speaking. After some practice, this new skill that once felt funny will feel natural.

I. Pay attention to the staircase intonation in the following sentences, draw a staircase for these sentences by putting each word on one step of the staircase, and repeat them after the speaker.

Example:

Globalization is a widely discussed topic.

Globalization is a widely discussed
topic.

1 Let's start from the beginning with a background to globalization.

2 This process is called globalization.

3 A further disadvantage of globalization is ecological problems such as climate change.

II. Listen to the sentences from the video and the passage above. Then fill in the blanks with the words or phrases you hear.

1 _____ in technology such as mobile phones, airplanes, telephones and the Internet have made the growth of transport and communication networks possible.

2 Because of globalization and its _____ exchange of goods, people and the environment often _____.

3 The use of airplanes, ships and lorries to _____ goods over international borders is constantly _____.

4 India is considered one of the _____ markets in which to find any success.

5 That's because _____ Indian consumers expect quality goods at reasonable cost.

6 One of the most successful innovations for India was the refrigerator where freezer was _____ to the bottom because of the usage.

7 When it came to localization it was not just about the products, it was also about the marketing strategy that we _____.

III. Fill in the blanks with the words or phrases above. Change the form if necessary.

1 His job is to _____ large quantities of commercial products every day.

2 If you just got mugged, lost your job, got the flu, and broke your toe, you're having a really _____ week.

3 Infection rates are _____ in this area due to inadequate access to medical resources.

4 If you accidentally spill a cup of hot tea on yourself, you'll probably feel _____ pain.

5 We live in an age of rapid technological _____.

6 I did anything I could to be sure my beloved dog didn't _____ when she got old and sick.

7 If you _____ your focus, you're still focused, but the focus has moved.

8 Babysitting might seem like an easy job, but depending on the kids it can actually be incredibly _____.

9 When you _____ a particular attitude — such as a respectful attitude — you select that as a way to present yourself and behave as if it is natural.

IV. The following sentences are taken from the video and the passage above. Complete each sentence by translating the Chinese in the brackets into English. Then listen to the sentences and compare your translations with the originals.

1 If a company decides to move production to an _____ (经济欠发达国家), people in industrialized countries lose their jobs.

2 There are, therefore, many sides to globalization which affect almost all aspects of life, causing me to think that _____ (一系列积极与消极的影响) will continue to grow further.

3 But, _____ (凡事皆有两面).

4 Chinese multinational Haier has been successful as one of the largest _____ (家用电器制造商) there.

5 It was in 2010 when Haier India had a _____ (转折点).

6 The success has now made Haier invest more in India and the company will be _____ (产能翻倍) in the next few years.

Speaking for Communication

Discussion Skill: Compromising and Reaching a Consensus

To compromise is to make a deal between different parties where each party gives up part of their demand. In arguments, compromise is a concept of finding agreement through communication. Consensus is a general agreement. It is used to describe both the decision and the process of reaching a decision. The idea of it is based on the reality of overlapping interests. It often involves variations from an original goal or desire. Through compromising and reaching a consensus, we stop trying to get people to agree about stuff they do not agree about. We can instead focus on finding agreement to solve problems. You may find the following expressions useful:

Asking for opinions

What's your take on this?

What's your view?

Do you have any views on…?

Softening your own opinion

I may be wrong, but…

I'm no expert, but…

I don't know about you, but…

Disagreeing

I can't say for certain that…

Maybe it's just me, but…

I'm not so sure.

Do you really want…?

Can you seriously picture…?

I see your point, however, don't you think that…

I understand what you're saying, but…

Imagine for a moment that you are…

Try to see it from my point of view.

Reframing the disagreement

So here is the real question:…?

We could look at this from a different perspective.

I think one way of looking at that is to…

Setting conditions

I'll agree to your…, so long as…

I'm ready to agree if you can…

I would be willing to…, provided that…

The bottom line is that…

Proposing a solution

We propose that…

So why don't we…?

I'd like to suggest that we…

Can we resolve this by…

If I agree, would you be willing to…?

Signalling agreement

Right.

I'm with you.

I agree that…

I think you are right about…

That sounds great to us.

I can go with that.

Examples:

1 Do you have any views on the effects of globalization?
2 I am no expert, but I think localization itself is neither good nor bad.
3 Imagine for a moment that you are a worker for a car company in an industrialized country and one day you lose your job because the entire factory is moved to another country.
4 The bottom line is that we can't raise both salaries and bonuses.
5 Can we resolve this by agreeing that there is a link between globalization and cultural identity of people?

I. Listen to the discussion. Then practice the discussion in groups.

(A, B and C are working on a presentation about globalization and they are discussing whether globalization is good or bad.)

A: Hi, Bryan. Hi, Cathy.

B: Hi, Abbey.

C: Hello, Abbey.

A: Thanks for coming. Now, we need to decide our stance on the influence of globalization. Is it good or bad? Do you have any views on it?

B: I don't know about you guys, but I really think it's a good thing. More affordable products are available to more people.

C: Hmm. I am not so sure.

A: What are your thoughts, Cathy?

C: Well, globalization reduces the costs of products, I guess you could say, but actually, when companies decide to move production to economically disadvantaged countries, people in industrialized countries lose their jobs.

B: I see what you mean. But at the same time, job opportunities would open up to many locals in the developing countries. And these countries would gain access to the markets of the rich countries. Therefore, globalization brings about economic development. What about you, Abbey?

A: Actually, I agree with Bryan that globalization promotes world trade in a good way. However, when goods are transported across borders, carbon dioxide is increasingly released to the atmosphere which, in turn, is the main cause of global warming. From this perspective, I'm not sure about globalization being a good thing.

C: Well, I think you are right about that, Abbey.

B: I understand what you're saying, but in the process of globalization, not only does an exchange of products and economic goods take place, but also of services, knowledge, cultural goods and even languages. I really think ecological problems can be solved through collaboration worldwide.

A: OK, so we have reasons to say globalization is good and also reasons to say globalization is bad. I think one way of looking at this is to say globalization is neither good nor bad.

C: Yeah, there are many sides to globalization. Bryan?

B: Right. If we don't agree on whether it is good or bad, then can we resolve this by agreeing that it depends on how the people deal with all the new possibilities in the future?

C: Yeah, I can go with that.

A: I'd like to suggest that we discuss globalization in different areas in our presentation and talk about how the chain of positive and negative effects will continue to grow further.

B: That sounds great.

C: Let's do that.

II. Work in pairs and practice compromising and reaching a consensus in a discussion on the following scenario.

A group of foreign students are visiting your university. You and your classmates are student representatives. You need to prepare a presentation to introduce your university and your life on campus. Suppose the following pictures are taken on your campus, which one would you choose to be used in your presentation? Why?

What's the influence of glocalization on people? There might be different answers to this question. In this video, Jai Harman introduces his journey of learning Kung Fu. Thanks to globalization, Harman got to know Kung Fu and came to China to learn it. After years of living here, he has become a part of the local community and calls China his home.

I. ▶ Watch the video and decide whether the following statements are true (T) or false (F).

1 _____ Harman looks up to Bruce Lee.
2 _____ Harman had no hard feelings about his teacher beating him up.
3 _____ Harman plans to go back to Rugby to teach Wing Chun.

II. ▶ You want to recommend Jai Harman as a teacher to your friend who is interested in learning Wing Chun, even though Harman is a foreigner. One way to make your argument convincing is to use structured reasoning. Study the following steps about structured reasoning. Then watch the video again and fill in the blanks.

Critical Thinking Skill: Reasoning for an Argument

In Unit 7, Book 1, we've learned how to use structured reasoning to make your argument convincing. In this unit, let's reinforce this skill by reviewing the following steps and get to know some tips for each step.

Steps

1 Identify and analyze the argument.
2 Look for reasons and evidence you can use to support your argument.
3 Evaluate the evidence to determine whether each piece of evidence is strong, relevant and valid.

Tips

- Restate the argument in your own words to better understand it.
- Underline and understand the key words and concepts in the argument.
- Break the argument into sub-arguments.
- List all major evidence.
- Use discourse markers to help you organize and find out the relationships between each piece of evidence and eliminate anything that is irrelevant.

Argument	Jai Harman would be a good choice as a Wing Chun teacher.
Argument 1: He is a skilful martial artist.	Reason	He has learned Wing Chun for a long time from one of the best teachers in the world.
	Evidence	He was in China when he was just 1 _____. His teacher is 2 _____ for being skilful in the art of Wing Chun.
Argument 2: He plans to teach Wing Chun in China.	Reason	The 3 _____ in any Kung Fu is to become a teacher and teach your own students.
	Evidence	He thinks that, in martial art, it's important for people to 4 _____. He wants to stay in China 5 _____.

III. Work in groups and finish the following task.

Jai Harman fulfilled his childhood dream of being trained like Bruce Lee in China. And after 10 years living here, he now calls China his home. Globalization facilitates the flow of culture and people. Meanwhile, opponents of globalization say that it may undermine the local culture by promoting a single world culture. How does globalization influence you, young people in China, and the Chinese society? Do you think globalization promote or undermine Chinese traditional culture? Discuss with your group members and try to make your argument forceful and convincing by following the above-mentioned steps.

Users can select their 6 _____ for Apple's 7 _____ assistant, called Siri. • Conclusion Planning for these processes before the project begins will help you design products that include and satisfy users of all 8 _____.

Putting into Practice: Project

Suppose you and your friends are going to open a Chinese snack bar (or any other typical Chinese food store, like a soybean milk store, jianbing breakfast, etc.) in an American community populated by around 3,000 Americans who know very little about China. They already have one steakhouse, two pizza stores and one KFC in the neighbourhood. Work in groups and work out a business plan for the food store.

You may take the following steps:

1 Work in groups and review the concepts you have learned about glocalization.

What do we know about glocalization?

2 Discuss and choose a food item with strong Chinese characteristics.

Members' ideas:

Group's choice:

3 Research and find out what your target customers might care about when they choose food products.

Who are our target customers?

What do we know about them?

4 Work out your localization strategies.

Listening as Comprehension

Listening Skill: Listening for Discourse Markers III

As we've learned in Book 1, discourse markers are used to direct and redirect the flow of information presented in materials. Identifying and understanding discourse markers facilitates our understanding of the relationship between ideas in listening. In this unit, let's review all the discourse markers we have learned in the previous units (Units 6–8, Book 1 and Units 6–7, Book 2).

- Discourse markers introducing new information include phrases like: My topic today is...; Today we are going to discuss...
- Discourse markers giving examples include expressions like such as, for example...
- Discourse markers for contrasting include words like despite, however, but...
- Discourse markers for sequencing are mainly adverbs and prepositional phrases, like firstly, in the first place, afterwards, after that...
- Discourse markers indicating cause and effect include expressions like thanks to, consequently, as a result...

Pronunciation Skill: Question Intonation

In Unit 5, Book 1, we've learned question intonation. In this unit, let's reinforce this skill. Please review the concept as follows.

In Yes/No questions, intonation usually begins to rise on the most important word for the speaker's meaning. In wh-questions, intonation usually begins to fall on the most important word for the speaker's meaning.

But both cases have exceptions. Yes/No question will come with a falling tone when the speaker already knows the answer and is asking the question for confirmation or using it as a reminder. Wh-question will come with a rising tone when the speaker asks the question for repetition or clarification of previously known information.

To summarize, if the question needs a rising tone, the voice rises at the end of the sentence. And if the question needs a falling tone, the voice falls on the final stressed syllable of a phrase or a group of words. In addition, content words (nouns, main verbs, adjectives, and adverbs) in questions, just like in all the other types of sentences, are more likely to be stressed than function words (determiners, conjunctions, prepositions, pronouns, auxiliary verbs, modals, and qualifiers).

I. Pay attention to the question intonation in the following sentences, and repeat them after the speaker.

1 Do you think these two paintings are from the same background?
2 Do you know that some Western style painters have been influenced by these Eastern painting techniques?
3 Look at these two paintings. Can you see their differences?
4 Can you see the influence of Eastern-styled painting?

II. Listen to the sentences from the video and the passage above. Then fill in the blanks with the words you hear.

1 Eastern and Western paintings have different _____.
2 Do you know that some Western style painters have been _____ by these Eastern painting techniques?

3 However, this painting, also created by Toulouse-Lautrec, was _____ by Japanese prints.

4 Sadly, however, the number of languages _____ every month.

5 Or Ainu, the language of the native _____ in northern Japan, which now has barely 10 native speakers.

6 _____ half of the world's living languages are actually expected to die out by the end of this century.

III. Fill in the blanks with the words or phrases above. Change the form if necessary.

1 The number of staff has _____ from 217,000 to 114,000.

2 Genes determine the _____ of every living thing.

3 The _____ of a place are the people who live there.

4 Our challenge is to motivate those voters and _____ them to join us.

5 _____ 700 people attended the concert.

6 Van Gogh greatly _____ the development of modern painting.

IV. The following sentences are taken from the video and the passage above. Complete each sentence by translating the Chinese in the brackets into English. Then listen to the sentences and compare your translations with the originals.

1 In addition, light and perspective are used to make _____（三维错觉）.

2 That's more than twice the number of languages spoken in _____（整个欧洲大陆）.

3 Among the 7,111 languages, _____（90%的语言的使用者不到10万人）.

4 By the end of the century, 50 to 90 per cent of the currently spoken languages _____（可能会灭绝）.

5 It's estimated that languages are dying _____（以每14天一种的速度）.

Speaking for Communication

Discussion Skill: Keeping the Discussion on Topic

During a discussion, people sometimes get off topic, bringing up ideas that aren't related to the discussion topic. In this situation, other people could make an effort to bring the discussion back to the original topic in a polite way.

The following are some expressions for bringing a discussion back on topic and keeping a discussion focused.

That's interesting, but it raises a different point. Could we come back to that later?
Maybe we could talk about that later, but for now ...
That's a good point, but ...
Let's stay focused.
Can we go back to ...?
Maybe we should get back to the question.
I think maybe we're getting off track / getting off the topic (subject).
Let's get back to ...

Examples:

1 That's a very good point, but our topic is language diversity. We could talk about how to learn English when the present one is finished.
2 Let's stay focused everybody. Please put aside the way the Indians eat and focus on traditional dress around the world.
3 Can we go back to the Chinese ethnic minorities? Maybe when we finish talking about this, if time permits, we will talk about Chinese dialects.
4 Yes, it is undeniable that kilts are Scotland's tradition dress. Maybe we should get back to the question of the tribes in Africa.
5 I think maybe we are getting off track. You know our topic is the indigenous people in the Arctic region, not the winter vacation plan.

I. Listen to the discussion. Then practice the discussion in groups.

(A, B, and C find traditional dress of different countries very interesting.)

A: Do you think people all over the world wear the same kind of clothes?

B: Well, I think they wear almost the same: T-Shirt, jeans, pullover, hoodie, coat, skirt, something like that.

C: Perhaps on formal occasions, people wear almost the same: suits and tie for men and dress for women. You know when we watch TV, especially news reports about political conferences, we find world leaders wear almost the same.

A: To some extent, yes. But actually there are huge differences in traditional dress.

B: Yes. I think the traditional dress in China is the Han Chinese clothing. I like the Han Chinese clothing. There is a wonderful e-shop in T-Mall which sells this kind of clothing.

C: Really? Send me the link. I also want to buy some.

B: Let me see. Wait ... Yes, got it ...

A: I think maybe we're getting off track. Let's get back to traditional dress in different countries, OK?

B: Sorry.

C: OK. I know people in India wear a kind of clothing, called Sari. It's said that it is the simplest item of clothing possible — a single length of fabric, up to nine metres long. It is also one of the world's most versatile and stylish garments, which can be draped in dozens of different ways.

B: That's interesting. And I hear men in Scotland wear skirts. How funny!

A: The skirts in Scotland have a special name: kilt. The kilt has been used to represent all things Scottish.

C: I plan to visit Scotland this summer, because I hear there is beautiful scenery in the highland.

B: Loch Less, Isle of Skye, ancient castles ...

C: By the way, have you ever been there?

B: Yes. Two years ago, ...

A: To visit Scotland, that's a good point. But we are talking about traditional dress. Let's stay focused, everybody.

II. Work in groups and practice keeping the discussion on the topic "cultural diversity". You will appreciate a poem which depicts a picture of what the world would be like without diversity and with diversity. After appreciating the poem, discuss the following questions. Attention should be paid to keeping your discussion on topic. If someone gets off topic, please try to bring him or her back with the expressions given above.

What if all the trees were oaks?
How plain the world would seem!
No maple syrup, banana splits.
And how would orange juice be?

Wouldn't it be a boring place,
If all the people were the same;
Just one colour, just one language,
Just one family name!

But,

If the forest were the world,
And all the people were the trees;
Palm and pine, bamboo and willow,
Live and grow in harmony.

Aren't you glad, my good friend,
Different though we be;
We are here to help each other,
I learn from you, and you, from me.

Questions for discussion:

1 According to the poem, the world would be a boring place if all the people were the same. Do you agree?
2 Do you have any friends or acquaintances who come from different cultural backgrounds? In which aspects do you find you are different from each other? How do these differences provide you with opportunities to help each other or learn from each other?

Do you know ME cultures and WE cultures? What about individualistic and collectivist societies? In this video, the speaker explores different types of cultures and societies.

I. Watch the video and choose the best answers.

Among the following statements, _____ are about ME cultures and _____ are about WE cultures.

A. Place more importance on the group.
B. Place more importance on the individual.
C. Believe each individual is responsible for their own well-being.
D. Prioritize strong social ties and belonging to a larger group.
E. View their responsibility to others in society as limited.
F. Make the best decisions for the overall well-being of their groups.
G. When going out to dinner, the family consists of only two parents and their two children.
H. When going out to dinner, the family consists of two children, their cousins and multiple sets of parents and grandparents.
I. Everyone would order the specific meal they want.
J. All members of the family would share the food.

II. ▶ In this video, the speaker demonstrates that the major difference between cultures in the East and the West is how they view the individual in relation to the group. Read the following types of questions that can help you understand and interpret new information. Then watch the video again and answer the questions.

Critical Thinking Skill: Asking Thoughtful Questions

In Unit 8, Book 1, we've learned six types of questions that could be asked to discover or discuss new information. In this unit, let's reinforce this skill and get to know more useful questions. The following six types of questions can be asked to facilitate your understanding and interpretation of new information.

1 Knowledge questions: exhibiting previously learned material by recalling facts, terms, basic concepts and answers.

e.g. What is …?
When did … happen?
Why did …?

2 Comprehension questions: demonstrating understanding of facts and ideas by organizing, comparing, translating, interpreting, giving descriptions and stating main ideas.

e.g. Explain in your own words …?
What facts or ideas show …?
What evidence is there that …?

3 Application questions: solving problems by applying acquired knowledge, facts, techniques and rules in a different way.

e.g. What examples can you find to …?
How would you show your understanding of …?
What approach would you use to …?

4 Analysis questions: examining and breaking information into parts by identifying motives or causes; making inferences and finding evidence to support generalisations.

e.g. What inference can you make from …?
How would you classify/categorize …?
What are the most important/significant ideas/elements of …?

5 Evaluation questions: presenting and defending opinions by making judgements about information, validity of ideas or quality of work based on a set of criteria.

e.g. How would you compare …?

How would you judge the accuracy of …?

What was the value or importance of … in …?

6 Creation/Synthesis questions: compiling information together in a different way by combining elements in a new pattern or proposing alternative solutions.

e.g. What might have happened if …?

Can you propose an alternative interpretation to …?

How can these different ideas be grouped together into a more general category?

1 Knowledge question: What is a ME culture? What is a WE culture?

2 Comprehension question: What facts or ideas can indicate that you are from a ME culture or a WE culture?

3 Application question: What examples can you find to prove a person is from a ME culture or a WE culture?

4 Analysis question: What are the most important ideas of ME cultures or WE cultures?

5 Evaluation question: How persuasive are the examples presented in the video?

6 Creation/Synthesis question: Can you propose an alternative interpretation to ME cultures or WE cultures?

III. Work in groups and discuss the questions.

1 According to the video, in ME cultures, people attach more importance to individuals, their responsibility for themselves and their immediate family members. But for others in society, their responsibility is rather limited. What advantages and disadvantages can you find in ME cultures? Support your view with examples.

2 In WE cultures, people strive for group harmony. How do you understand "If you take care of the group, they will take care of you."? Do you agree with this statement? Why or why not?

Putting into Practice: Project

The Chinese people have created splendid culture. Suppose you are invited to write for a book about Chinese culture. Work in groups and design one chapter of the book.

You may take the following steps:

1 Discuss with your group members. Each group selects one item of Chinese culture from the following table.

Chinese Festival	the Spring Festival, the Lantern Festival, the Tomb-Sweeping Day, the Labour Day, the Dragon-Boat Festival, the Mid-Autumn Day, the National Day
Chinese Zodiac	the rat, the ox, the tiger, the rabbit, the dragon, the snake, the horse, the sheep, the monkey, the rooster, the dog, the pig
Chinese Cuisine	Sichuan Cuisine, Hunan Cuisine, Guangdong Cuisine, Fujian Cuisine, Jiangsu Cuisine, Zhejiang Cuisine, Anhui Cuisine, Shandong Cuisine
Chinese Calligraphy	four treasures of the study: brush, ink, paper, ink stone; the main calligraphy script styles: seal script, clerical script, regular script, semi-cursive script, cursive script
Chinese Kung Fu	Shaolin Temple, Wudang Mountain, Shaolinquan, Changquan, Hongquan（洪拳）and Fanziquan（翻子拳）, Taichi, Bagua, Xingyiquan（形意拳）
Chinese Musical Instrument	Pipa, Guzheng, Guqin, Hulusi, Erhu, Flute, Xiao, Xun, Lusheng, Drum, Suona, Dombra（冬不拉）, Morin Khuur（马头琴）
Traditional Chinese Medicine	Yin and Yang; five elements: metal, wood, water, fire, and earth; the circulation of Qi; four diagnostic methods: observation, listening, interrogation, and pulse-taking; acupuncture（针灸）, moxibustion（艾灸）, acupressure（指压疗法）, scrape therapy（刮痧）, massage（按摩）, cupping（拔罐）

2 Search for information about the item that you have selected. The following aspects may be included:

- Origin
- Development
- Important features
- Classification
- Influence

3 Design a cover for your chapter. Remember to include a title and all the group members' names on the cover.

4 Arrange the contents and illustrations for your chapter.

5 Print your chapter out or present a digital version and share it with other groups.

6 Put all the chapters together to form the Chinese culture book of your class.
